

CITY BUDGET TO BE SUBJECT AT CLUB MEET

An open forum and discussion on the city budget for the ensuing fiscal year will be conducted by Mayor Paul Wittmer at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club which will be held at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow morning in Ketter's cafe. It was announced today by Barney Koster, chairman of the program committee.

The discussion will assume the form of an election and members of the club will be asked to vote on each of the items which are being considered for adoption into the city budget, such as elimination of the city band, decreasing of the city advertising fund, cutting of salaries of city employees and many other questions of extreme importance to taxpayers of the city.

The public is invited to attend the session of the club, it was announced by D. G. Wetlin, president.

REV. GARCIA BEGINS 10TH YEAR IN S. A.

Coincident with the appointment of other Methodist ministers in the conference comes the announcement that the Rev. R. E. Garcia has been re-appointed pastor of the Santa Ana Mexican Methodist church. The pastor is beginning his tenth year of service in this city.

The Rev. Mr. Garcia's appointment was made through the Latin American mission which met in Long Beach late in June, preceding the Methodist conference there. The Santa Ana also was named general secretary of the young people's work of the Latin American Mission, which takes in all of the districts west of the Mississippi.

ATTENDANCE IN LOCAL SCHOOLS IS INCREASED

ANAHEIM, July 6.—Boasting a daily attendance of 97.29 per cent, more than one percent more than last year, figures announced yesterday by M. A. Gauer, superintendent of the grammar schools, showed that 828 pupils had perfect attendance records for the entire year. Last year only 193 students had perfect attendance records.

The total attendance for the year was 1662 over 1651 last year and the cost per pupil in daily average attendance in the local school for the past year was $81.37, a decrease of 16 cents over the cost per student in the previous year.

The board of trustees have announced the school calendar for next year that includes the opening of the new term on September 19, Armistice Day holiday, November 11, and Thanksgiving holidays on November 24 and 25. Beginning on December 16 and lasting until January 3 the Christmas holidays will be given the students while the teachers will have institute December 17-18. Spring vacation will be from April 7 to 17, Memorial Day vacation on May 30 and the closing of schools on June 9.

CRUEL TREATMENT OF BOY AT STATE SCHOOL RESULTS IN COURT ORDER FOR RELEASE

SAN DIEGO, July 6.—Sweeping investigation of charges of cruel treatment of boys and mismanagement of the state school for boys at Whittier under Dr. Carlos Sabich, political henchman of Governor James Rolph, is looming as a result of charges made here by Mrs. Russel Fertig.

So sensational were the charges made by Mrs. Fertig when she appeared before Judge C. Andrews of this city that, after an investigation, he ordered the immediate release of Gordon Schurman, 15-year-old son of Mrs. Fertig. Young Schurman was sent to Whittier for 20 months as an incorrigible child on request of his mother and Probation Officer Wood F. Worcester, when Mrs. Fertig informed Judge Andrews of the alleged cruel treatment of her son by the school.

Worcester, through Elmer R. Murphy of the Citizens' committee of Pasadena conducted the investigation and it was upon their reports that the court order was issued.

No Instruction

Among the other things Mrs. Fertig charged her son was compelled to work in the school's laundry from early morning until late afternoon; that he had been beaten with a strap by an older student for a period of two months, and that he had been given no school instruction or recreation.

The state school has been under fire almost constantly since the election of Governor Rolph and his use of the institution and jobs there as a medium for paying off political debts. Previous heads of the institution, under Rolph, failed to weather the storms of protest that were aroused over inclusion of the school in the spoils system and were retired.

Dr. Sabich, who allegedly was "the brains" of the Rolph machine in Kern county during the election, was named head of the school approximately one year ago after the state board of health refused to accept him as state epidemiologist. When Sabich took over direction of the school, it already was under fire which increased as time went on. The principal charge until Mrs. Fertig's accusation, was that the school was being inefficiently managed and experienced employees were being replaced by inexperienced men who had served the Rolph machine and were collecting their pay.

Mother Tells Story

It has always been intimated since Sabich took charge of the school that he was making it a penal institution rather than a corrective school, and that the "stool pigeon" system was being used by officials in charge of the boys. These charges were made direct accusations by Mrs. Fertig along with charges of actual cruelty to inmates of the school which were sanctioned by Sabich.

Mrs. Fertig in relating her story explained that the school rules prevent parents of a child from visiting him during his first 30 days in the institution.

"But when I visited my son at the end of the first month, and listened to his stories of ill treatment, hard work and no instruction, it seemed unbelievable," Mrs. Fertig said. "I did not take my

Beaten by Negro Monitor

"Under the present monitor system the biggest and strongest boy is chosen as monitor over a group, irrespective as to his personal qualities for the job.

"In one instance a negro, monitor over Gordon, has been beating him every day for the last month. Willie Morgan, another negro, struck a lad named Leonard Pulverly square in the face and knocked him down."

"Other monitors also have the reputations of striking blows. If the boy hits back when a monitor strikes him, he is sent immediately to the 'lost privilege' cottage."

"It is evident that the supervisors have knowledge of what is going on. One boy in complaining to Supervisor Vaughn as to his beating at the hands of a monitor, was answered: 'You are not hurt badly, you had better say nothing about it.'"

"At least for the last two months there has been no school instruction for Gordon, who is 15 years old, which is contrary to state laws."

"The stool pigeon system is encouraged. Two boys from a certain group ran away, whereupon all members of that group were subjected to three and one-half hours of punishment and made to polish floors. The 180-pound monitor was put over them and furnished a strap with instructions to strike the boys if they changed their positions or straightened up. Two of the boys were beaten until they were black and blue and others were hit."

"Dr. Carlos Sabich, head of the school, called one of the boys on the carpet to face the various officials of the school and asked him if it were true that he had told his mother of conditions at the school. The boy acknowledged he had. There was no question that the statement of those terrible abuses were correct. There was no attempt at correction by Dr. Sabich, but lifting up a 14-pound Oregon boot, which he told the boy was for the boys' legs in the old days, he said: 'How would you like to wear this for a while? I warn you if there is any more information given out as to what happens in this institution I will forbid your parents coming to see you and give you suitable punishment. We don't want any news as to what happens on the outside.'"

"Mr. Vaughn, the supervisor, who was with Dr. Sabich at the time he threatened the boy, went directly to the group of boys, of which Gordon was a member, and said: 'This boy is a squealer; he reports what happens and you know what we do to squealers.'"

"Then Vaughn influenced Gordon to write a letter to his mother telling her what a wonderful man was Vaughn. But the letter was written in such stilted English that it shows dictation and disclosed the source."

Toner Asks For Report

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 6.—(UP)—Charges of brutality brought against the administration of Whittier State school will be "thoroughly investigated" by Dr. J. M. Toner, director of the state department of institutions.

Dr. Toner said today the charges "seem entirely unfounded," but that he had asked Dr. George C. Sabich, superintendent of the school for juvenile delinquents, to submit a full report.

The accusations were brought by Mrs. C. L. Fertig of San Diego. She claimed her 15-year-old son was beaten daily by a 180-pound Negro "monitor."

PROGRAM FOR BAND CONCERT IS ANNOUNCED

The program for the Santa Ana Municipal band concert at Birch park tomorrow night was announced today by Director D. C. Clanton. The program of the evening will be dedicated to the memory of the famous American composer and bandmaster, John Philip Sousa, and several of his compositions will be featured on the evening's program.

John Philip Sousa was born in Washington, D. C., in 1854. As early as 1867 he had played in the Marine band and in 1880-92 he was its leader, then forming his own band with which he toured throughout America, four times in Europe and one around the world. He has written more than 10 comic operas, eight suites for band, the scenic "Sheridan's Ride" and the symphonic "Charlot Race", a bout 200 marches, some 20 dances, about 50 songs, and several arrangements.

Tomorrow evening's program of the Santa Ana band will be as follows:

1—March, "Stars and Stripes Forever" (Sousa); 2—Overture, "Poet and Peasant" (Suppe); 3—Suite, "At the Movies" (a) The Serenaders, (b) The Crafty Villains and the Timid Maid, (c) Ballad and the Swing Partners (Sousa); 4—Vocal, "The Trumpeter" (Dix), by Robert Brown, baritone; 5—Funeral March (Chopin), in memory of John Philip Sousa; 6—Characteristics, "The Mill in the Forest" (Ellenberg); 7—Waltz, "Thousand and One Nights" (J. Strauss); 8—March, "George Washington Bicentennial March" (Sousa).

COUNCIL GIVES $100 TO GUARD COMPANY FUND

The city council last night appropriated $100 to the mess funds of Headquarters company, third brigade and to Company L, 135th Infantry, California National Guard which leaves here Saturday for its annual encampment at San Luis Obispo.

The donation was made after Mayor Donald Winans, of Anaheim, appeared before the council and stressed the need of additional finances to feed the 83 Santa Ana men who would leave here on the annual encampment. He asked for $200 donation.

The council however was not unanimous in its decision. With Councilman J. L. McBride absent, Councilmen E. G. Warner, William Penn and A. C. Hasenjaeger voted for the measure and Mayor Paul Witmer voted against it.

Witmer remarked that with 3800 of the unemployed in Santa Ana hungry, he could not give his vote in favor of the plan. Hasenjaeger remarked that he considered the companies as protective organizations, else he would not be in favor of the donation. The motion was made by Councilman Warner and seconded by Penn. The money is to come from the city's advertising fund, the council agreed.

BARBERS AGAIN SEEK CLOSING HOUR MANDATE

The majority of barbers in Santa Ana want a city ordinance governing the time when all shops in the city must close, D. G. Wettlin, attorney, told the city council last night in requesting such a law.

The council took the matter under advisement for two weeks. Wettlin, representing the local barbers' union, appeared before the council and stated that approximately 95 per cent of the barbers were in favor of a union closing law. "I have had this matter before the council before and I can't understand why the council refuses to grant the request when a vast majority of the barbers themselves are in favor of it, and are asking for it," he said.

The new ordinance, fostered by the barbers calls for all shops to close promptly at 5 p. m. and also to close on Sunday. Wettlin termed the proposed ordinance as "a sanitary and helpful measure."

The council members declared they wanted to further investigate the matter before making a decision.

DELAY ACTION ON DEMAND FOR $15,000

City Attorney Clyde Downing last night recommended to the city council that it refuse to pay the demand made several weeks ago by B. Uttley, local tailor, for $15,000 damages asked because of injuries received by him when a car in which he was riding struck a dip on North Broadway at Tenth street but the city council voted instead to defer action on the demand for one week.

Uttley was injured when a veritable in his back was misplaced in the accident and was confined to his bed for several weeks. The accident occurred several months ago. The demand for damages was made on the city in May.

Open Air Grocery Must Be Housed

H. S. Okamoto, operator of Santa Ana's only "open air" grocery store, located on South Main street, appeared by request before the city council last night and was told that he would either have to house his vegetables or a new city license would be denied him. He left the council chambers stating that he would erect a new building.

Okamoto was ordered before the council a week ago after a protest of the manner in which he conducted his business was filed with the council by seven other grocers in the South Main street neighborhood.

Council Notes

Request of B. M. Hallister to change the zoning ordinance affecting First and Franklin streets, so that he can erect a service station there, was postponed by the city council last night for one week, while members of the city planning commission make an investigation.

Property measuring 56x117 feet, located at Bishop and South Van Ness streets, owned by A. G. Diehl, was last night ordered posted by the city council, hearing on which is set for next Monday night. Diehl wants to change the zoning there from family residence to business. A grocery store building is located at the property now.

A request on the part of C. J. Alexander asking that the southwest corner of First and Bristol streets be posted for special use, so that he can erect a service station there, was approved by the city council last night on recommendation of the city planning commission, which has had the matter under advisement for the past week.

Request of Walter DeVal, of 826 South Main street, for permission to open a sandwich shop in his home at that address was referred to the planning commission.

City To Ask $55,585 Of Supervisors

On recommendation of City Attorney Clyde Downing, the city council last night instructed the city clerk to request the county board of supervisors to appropriate to Santa Ana $55,585 for "construction, maintenance and repair of streets in Santa Ana" for the coming year.

The figure asked is based on the expenditures made last year, Downing said. The money is to come from the gasoline fund or any other fund the county supervisors deem proper.

CLUB PROTESTS PROPOSED CUT IN BAND FUND

A protest against the city council's proposed cut of the city budget affecting the Santa Ana Municipal band, was filed with the board last night by the Santa Ana Lion's club.

"The municipal band has won for itself an important place in our civic life," stated D. C. Tidball, president of the Lion's club, in a letter filed with the council.

Rumors to the effect that a drastic cut in the amount of money to be appropriated for the band's existence this year have been current since the council found that it would be necessary to use all kinds of economic measures to balance the budget and that the band would suffer a big decrease in the money allotted it.

The council was urged to give careful consideration before allowing a cut in the band budget and the latter remarked that "we must do all we can to bring joy and comfort."

Fly-By-Night Merchants Hit In New Ordinances

COUNCIL GIVES FIRST READING ON 2 MEASURES

ORANGE, July 6.—Orange will be fully protected from two types of merchants, transients and those who misrepresent in their advertising, if two ordinances which were given first readings at the council meeting yesterday are passed. The ordinances were drawn up at the request of local business men, and are to be further considered at the next meeting of the council when representatives of the merchants' association are to be in attendance to express their views.

City Attorney H. L. Dearing read the proposed ordinances, stating that the merchants are expecting various bankrupt stocks to be unloaded in cities throughout the country during the year.

Bond Required

The first ordinance concerns transient merchants who come into the city for a short time, taking the cream of the city's business while they are here. It proposes that every person coming to this city to start a business selling goods, wares or merchandise shall put up a $200 bond guaranteeing that he will remain in the city for 90 days or more. The present ordinance now in effect requires transients to pay $5 per day or $100 a month for the 90 day period. Long Beach and Glendale have similar ordinances, Dearing stated.

When the merchant proves that he plans to remain in the city as a business man, his bond will be exonerated by the city council, according to the change proposed in the present ordinance.

The other ordinance read yesterday regulates the sale of insurance, bankrupt and other stock. According to this, the merchant must not advertise that he is having a bankrupt, closeout, insurance, receiver's, etc., sale unless he really is. When he plans to have such a sale, he must apply to the city clerk, supplying an inventory of the goods and a list of the names of the goods. This must not be added to during the sale. If the sale lasts more than 90 days, the merchant will be charged $10 per day for a license. Long Beach has a similar ordinance, charging the business man $10 license for a three-month sale.

A committee of business men of the city is expected to attend the next council meeting to discuss the proposed ordinances.

Request Refused
C. E. McChristian, of 364 South Olive street, a member of the Orange Unemployment association, appeared before the council asking permission for the unemployed to sell cleaning crystals without a license. The men selling the product will get 40 per cent of the price of each can of cleaner sold, McChristian said.

Members of the council expressed the opinion that it would not be fair to the merchants of the city should the unemployed be allowed to sell the product without a license. McChristian stated his willingness to cooperate with the merchants, and was given permission to continue with the selling project should he get the consent and signatures of business men of the city who sell similar cleaning products.

Christian Church Pastor Leaves For Kentucky July 18

ORANGE, July 6.—Making final arrangements for his pastor, the Rev. Franklin H. Minck, to make a trip to Kentucky July 18, members of the official board of the Orange Christian church met last night at the church. In Bethel and Burgin, Ky., the pastor is to conduct evangelistic services.

The board named the Rev. J. R. Blunt, of Los Angeles, as summer pastor of the church. He is to begin his duties here after the Rev. Mr. Minck leaves and will remain here until early in September, when the pastor is expected to return home.

In making the trip, Mr. Minck will be accompanied by Mrs. Minck and their two children, Mary Virginia and Martha Jean, and Mrs. Minck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. French, of Visalia. They are traveling by automobile.

MASONS CONVENE

ORANGE, July 6.—Members of Orange Grove lodge No. 293, F. and A. M., held a monthly business session last night in Masonic hall, with Lucien Filippi, worshipful master, in charge. The session was concluded with a social time during which watermelon was served.

ORANGE URGED TO JOIN MOVE FOR GAS FUND

ORANGE, July 6.—Appearing before the city council yesterday, J. L. McBride, a member of the Santa Ana city council, explained that Orange has an opportunity to join with other incorporated cities in the county in petitioning the board of supervisors for a definite percentage of funds received from the gasoline tax. The supervisors are making up their budget now, he explained.

Should cities be given equal percentages of the gasoline taxes they pay, they will undoubtedly be paid in full, McBride said. All of the fund is used on streets. At present, it is very seldom that the cities receive benefit from the money they pay in, he brought out.

McBride brought out that cities which have through state highways often benefit by the present method of distribution. In one city through which a state highway is being constructed, the state is paying 50 percent of the cost, the county 25 percent, and the city itself only 25 percent. In Orange, for example, where the state highway does not go through, this city pays all of the cost of road work excepting the county's 25 percent he brought out. No action was taken by the council.

A. J. Denman, of the Western Enterprise Engine company, also appeared before the council, asking that the body consider the bid of his company if a new gas heater for the water department is purchased. Mayor Clyde Watson explained that there will be no change in the heater until after November, when there will be a possibility of making a change for one of the deep wells. The present 120 horse power heater supplied by the Western Enterprise company has been in use here for eight years, it was brought out.

If a few drops of olive oil are added to water when washing channels leather gloves they will not become hard of stiff.

REPORTS GIVEN AT SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL

ORANGE, July 6.—Monthly reports of the departments of the city of Orange were made yesterday at the meeting of the city council. City Clerk Paul Clark read the reports of Emma J. Pruitt, city treasurer, on bonds and coupons redeemed and on water collections for the month of June; of Chief of Police B. F. Richards; of Judge A. W. Swayze; of the city library; of the welfare store; of Street Superintendent C. C. Bonebrake and Water Superintendent W. J. Richardson.

Mrs. Pruitt's report showed that $4077.59 had been collected in water bills during June. The police chief's report showed that $2629.88 had been collected in taxes and $155.52 for licenses. His report also stated that six arrests had been made for speeding; one for driving without operator's license; one for assault and battery; three for investigations into burglary with the Santa Ana police; four for intoxication and one for a suspicious character. The report showed that Officer Pete Winslow had made 23 stops, answered 35 calls and covered 1334 miles. Homer Davis had a mileage of 1821, had made 44 calls and 24 stops, the report stated.

The recorder's report showed that Judge Swayze had collected $20 in fines for two speeders; $69 for two who were arrested on intoxication charges; $10 for assault and battery and $50 for possession, making a total of $149. The library report for June showed that there is a balance of $2135.79 in the treasury. The report of Mrs. Lillian Weitenmaier, of the welfare store, told that the first shipment of flour had been given out, and that 200 more sacks of flour are on hand. There were 35 families supplied; 18 men, 40 women given employment; 208 pieces of clothing and 380 men's suits given out among other things.

The street superintendent reported that his department had been busy cutting weeds and patching old streets in addition to the regular routine work. It was reported by the water superintendent that a total of 33,134,000 gallons of water was used during June, and that four new water connections had been made during the past month.

Concluding the meeting, Mrs. Sorenson served refreshments. Present were three visitors, Mrs. John Ward and Mrs. James E. Brown, of Orange, and Mrs. Charles Brown, of Ventura, and members, Mrs. Clyde Pentecost, Mrs. Ross Horton, Mrs. Evelyn Pentecost, Mrs. Ruby Horton, Mrs. Wilma Campbell, Miss Nava Ward, Mrs. Clyde Pentecost, Mrs. John Wootton and the hostess, Mrs. Sorenson.

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Cherry Dixon, 19 and pretty, falls in love with Dan Phillips, newspaper reporter whom her wealthy, aristocratic parents have forbidden her to see. When Cherry learns Dan's telephone number she steals out of the house to meet him. Her father discovers this and threatens to send her to California. Cherry defies him and he orders her to leave. She goes to Dan, tells him what has happened and asks him to marry her. The ceremony is performed that night by a justice of peace. Cherry looks for an apartment but is discouraged to find them so expensive. Dan works late one night on a tip that Tony Tosca, gangster and chief, is coming to Wellington. Cherry unconsciously gives this news to a reporter on the news paper. The other paper gets the story and Dan's boss threatens, "One more slip and you're fired."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XX

It was a week after the dinner party that had proven such a failure. Cherry Phillips, down on her knees scrubbing the bathroom floor, strained up and dropped the dripping mop rag back into the pail. She surveyed her work, then with a groan wrung the mop again and applied it to the floor.

There! It was done at last. Wearily the girl got to her feet. She lifted the heavy pail to carry it to the kitchen but as she turned she caught a glimpse of herself in the mirror.

Cherry put down the pail and gazed herself. What a sight she was! She had cleaned the apartment from floor to ceiling but it appeared that all the dust and dirt she had scrubbed and scraped away must have clung to herself. The lower pinned about her skirt in place of an apron was blackened with grime. Her printed silk frock had once been attractive but she had worn it for housework until it was frayed and soiled. Another jewel pinned about her head, and one finger was shrouded in a bulky bandage. That was where Cherry had cut herself the day before.

"You're a disgrace," she told the image in the mirror. "You look like something the cat dragged in." As Sarah would say. Only no self-respecting cat would have anything to do with you because cats keep themselves clean!"

Another time Cherry might have found her clown-like appearance amusing. She did not smile today; she was too tired. Wearily she picked up the scrubbing pail, carried it to the kitchen and emptied it. She saw that the hands of the toll alarm clock, painted bright yellow, pointed to after 5 o'clock. "Time to be starting supper," she thought automatically. No matter how hard she worked cooking or ironing or mending—no matter how busy the day there was always 5 o'clock and the evening meal to be prepared.

She filled a pan with water and started to peel potatoes. What if Dan did find her looking such a sight? She was too tired to think about her appearance—or to care. A sharp rap sounded on the door. "Anyone home?" a crisp voice called. "It's me—Dixie!"

Cherry reached for a towel. She was drying her hands as she drew the door back. "Hello, Dixie," she said. "Come in."

The girl on the threshold smiled brightly—and instantly the smile faded. "Saints above!" she exclaimed in a horrified tone. "What have you been doing to yourself, Cherry Phillips?"

Cherry shrugged. "I've been cleaning house. I've been awfully dirty and I've been at it all day."

"But, my dear, you're a wreck! Why don't you hire someone to do the cleaning? That's what I do."

The other girl shook her head. "We can't afford to hire anyone," she said. "Anyhow this is my part of the job. You see there are two of us to live on Dan's salary. You have only yourself."

Dixie nodded sympathetically. She dropped into the nearest chair. "Well, you're a game kid, I'll say that, but you're wearing yourself out and it doesn't pay. Listen, I like Dan and all that but take a little advice from a girl who knows. You'll regret this slavery!"

"Aren't you rather cynical?" "Maybe. Did you know I was married once? Oh, yes—blushing bride, showers of rice, 'love and obey' and all that! Keeping house in a kitchen love nest. Well, it lasted six months and I was a fool to stand it that long."

"Why, Dixie, I didn't know—" "Oh, it was over and forgotten long ago. You see I was dumb enough to fall for an actor. Hand some brute as right but as soon as we were married he stopped working. I kept my job and paid the bills until one day he got his dates mixed. There was a certain red head and—well, that was the end of that! A nice quiet divorce and Dixie's been a wiser girl ever since. But, Lord, what am I going on this way for? I didn't mean to narrate my life history!"

"I'm sorry," Cherry said sympathetically. "Don't waste sympathy on me. Think about yourself. The point is you ought to be getting out and having some fun. And don't, for heaven's sake, let Dan find you looking like Topsy herself! Better start scrubbing. It's going to take a long time to excavate that face."

Obediently Cherry began her ablutions. "I wish I were clever like you," she said. "I wish I could hold a job and earn money."

"Be glad you don't have to," the other told her shortly. She laughed. "I've been raving so much I almost forgot why I came. Can you and Dan come up for a little bridge tonight? Jack McAllister's coming over and I thought we'd have a party. He's the press agent for the Capitol Theater. You'll like Jack. I'll make a Welsh rabbit—it's my one and only culinary achievement and am I proud of it!"

"Of course we'll come," Cherry said. "I guess you're right, Dixie. I have been staying in too much."

"Good. I'll expect you around 8. That'll give you time to get out from under the black mask. Well, I'll have to scram. Lots to do in the next two hours."

Dixie departed. Cherry decided on a quick tubbing and was soon in the warm, comforting bath. Dinner would be late but at least she would be presentable. Cherry told herself Dixie had been right. It was a mistake to stay at home working all day with no recreation. That must be why she had felt so tired and cross.

Of course they had been trying to save but they couldn't save all the time. It wasn't fair to themselves. She was dusting powder over her shoulders when Dan came.

"Hello," she called, slipping a negligee about her. "Dinner's late because I've been cleaning house. It won't take long. I'll open a can of beans."

Dan kissed her absent-mindedly. "No hurry," he said. He tossed a newspaper into one chair and dropped his hat and coat in another.

Cherry said, "Doesn't everything look nice? I've been working all day."

"Sure. Everything's fine." She knew from the tone that Dan had not even heard her. Cherry was disappointed. She slipped a dress over her head and went to the kitchen to rummage for the mince. It was the work of 15 minutes to boil potatoes, heat the can of baked beans, split a head of lettuce for salad and make tea. Canned peaches left from the night before served for dessert.

"Everything's ready," she told Dan who was buried behind the pages of the newspaper.

The meal began silently. Once or twice Cherry glanced at Dan to see if anything was wrong. She could not understand his mood.

Presently she said, "We have an invitation for this evening."

"Invitation?" Dan looked up. "Play bridge? She's invited someone for a fourth. I told her we'd be glad to."

"But, Cherry—" "Why, I thought you'd like to go. We—we never go any place, Dan."

I'm tired of it—working all day long and then just sitting around here evenings."

"You can go if you want. I'm not going."

"Well, I mean it. I suppose you think I won't work all day long? Maybe I won't get tired too. Bridge! If there's one thing in the world I don't want to do tonight it's to play bridge!"

"But I've already accepted, Dan! I told her we'd come."

"Well, you can just tell her we won't. Tell her anything—I don't care what you say!"

"Please won't you do it for me?" "I've told you I'm not going to play bridge tonight and I'm not! If you want to go ahead, I'm not stopping you."

"I can't go alone. You know that. Oh, Dan I think you're being horrid. I've slaved all day long for you. I've scrubbed and swept and dusted until every muscle in my body aches! I'm sick of it and I want a little fun!"

Dan Phillips put down his knife and fork. "Maybe you think I wouldn't like a little fun once in a while," he said. "Do you know why I can't have it? Because the rent's due next week. Because I've borrowed from everyone in the office until I can't raise another nickel and I'm ashamed to ask for it. Fun? Would it interest you to know that I turned down a poker game with the boys tonight to come home and spend the evening with you? And I did it because working all evening maybe I can write a story that will bring in some extra cash!"

The girl was subdued. "I—I didn't understand," she said slowly. "Of course I'll tell Dixie we won't be able to make it."

The meal proceeded. It was not an appetizing dinner and neither of them were in communicative mood. When they had finished Cherry cleared the dishes away and went upstairs to make excuses to Dixie.

She returned to find Dan sitting before his battered typewriter, a stack of fresh copy paper at his side.

As quietly as possible she went about her work of washing the dishes. She tiptoed whenever she crossed the floor. Now and then the typewriter keys rattled, followed frequently by a terrific banging that could mean only that the writer was "x-ing" out his previous work.

An hour must have passed while she sat huddled in the big chair pretending to read. The silences between periods of typing became longer.

Suddenly, with a loud "Damn!" Dan jerked the paper from the machine. He jumped to his feet, tossing the crumpled sheet to the floor. Without another word he grabbed for his hat and coat and banged out of the apartment.

Party Observes 14th Anniversary

ORANGE, July 6.—In celebration of the 14th birthday anniversary of Miss Dorothy Krueger, a delightful patriotic party was given recently in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Krueger, East La Veta avenue. The early part of the evening was spent in playing games.

For the serving of delicious refreshments which included a decorated birthday cake, a red, white and blue motif was observed. Flowers, nut cups and flags were used in carrying out the color scheme.

During the evening, Lorene Croddy Graves gave vocal solos, and two of her pupils, Dorothy and Barbara Krueger, gave vocal numbers.

Those present were Miss Emma Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Graves, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Smith, Ida Price, Marjorie Armstrong, Nellie Dollard, Henrietta Campbell, Nellie Jewel Stone, Audrey Hancock, Eloise Smith, Doris Smith, Donald Krueger, Barbara Krueger and Mr. and Mrs. Krueger and Dorothy Krueger.

FAILS TO AID AFTER CRASH. SENT TO JAIL

Curtis O. Riblett, 22, mechanic, March field, near Riverside, yesterday afternoon was sentenced to serve one year in the county jail, on a charge of failure to stop and render aid after an automobile accident. He was sentenced in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court and started sentence immediately.

Riblett was arrested by Joe Clever, California highway patrol officer, a short time after his car is said to have collided with a machine occupied by Mr. and Mrs.

G. E. Davis, of Huntington Beach. The accident occurred on Placentia avenue, near Anaheim several weeks ago. No one was reported hurt.

Immediately after the accident, Riblett attempted to get away, it was reported, but his car caught fire. He escaped for the time being on foot, deserting the car.

Thieves Get $50 Loot at Garage

Thieves who last night broke into the garage of Nicholas Davila, of 445 North Cypress street, Orange, stole tools worth $50, according to a report filed at the sheriff's office.

A drill press worth $11.95, a motor worth $12 and a 12-inch hand saw worth $25 were among the articles listed as stolen.

Entrance was gained by prying open the front doors of the place, officers said.

S. A. BOYS END STAY AT CAMP IN MOUNTAINS

Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. boys and camp staff members numbering 70, returned last night from their two weeks at Camp Osceola, all in good health and good spirits, and all agreeing in the verdict of "best ever" as to their camp.

Their place at camp was taken by a crowd of high school boys from Fullerton and the north part of Orange county, who went in yesterday under the guidance of A. J. Raitt, Y secretary for the northern section.

The Santa Ana boys left notable contributions at the camp in the work done in improving the cabins and in rebuilding the campfire auditorium. By earnest effort they succeeded in completing the work on the fireplaces in time to have their dedication service on Saturday night, with Coleman Wickey, veteran leader for many camps at Osceola, enjoying the privilege of starting the first campfire in the new place.

"We are generally agreed that it has been our best camp," said D. H. Tibbals, director, as he unloaded his crowd last night, and prepared to settle down to his work for the boys at home. "There has not been a single case of discipline in the whole period, nor has there been friction either among the leaders or the boys. It has been a nearly ideal as any camp I have ever attended or conducted. We brought the boys home in good condition, and I am confident that they will not soon forget the good times and the useful lessons that they have enjoyed at the camp."

"We are already enrolling boys for the Friendly Indian camp for younger lads, August 12 to 19, and it looks as though that will be a very full camp. Our quota is limited, and it will not take a great many more registrations to fill up the number we can take. These are the boys under 12 years of age."

HOLD DISTRICT NURSES MEET AT ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, July 6. — Regular meetings of District 16 Nurses' association ended for the summer with the party given annually by Mrs. R. W. Baler in the beautiful garden at 746 South Lemon street.

The speaker and guest of the afternoon was Mrs. Harriet Fleming, president of the State Nurses' association. She gave a very interesting description of the National Biennial Convention of the Nurses' association at San Antonio, Texas. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. George W. Salisbury, of Anaheim.

After the program a business session was conducted by Mrs. Nelson Smith, president of the district.

The introduction of a publicity department into the association was announced with Miss Anna Stolpe, chairman; Miss Laura Hansen and Mrs. A. C. Eklund, acting on the committee.

Reports of the state convention of nurses were given by Mrs. Nelson Smith, Mrs. Franklin Ground, Mrs. L. G. Bement and the Misses Ruth Crawford, Margaret Van Scoy and Anna Ebenger.

The guests then returned to the living room where Mrs. Thomas Lumsdon poured tea from a silver service. She was assisted by Miss Mary Easton. The table was beautifully arranged with Shasta daisies and four white candles in silver candlesticks.

Police Investigate Abandoned Truck

Following the knocking down of an Edison light pole at Tenth and Main streets last night, an abandoned truck, which according to the police bore signs of having crashed into something, was found at Eighth and Main streets. The truck was towed to a garage.

The truck bore a sign of "Borden and Sackman." Police are making an investigation.

Sheriff's Officers Checking Story of Santa Ana Youth

The sheriff's office today was making an investigation into a story told by Wesley Smith, 15, Santa Ana youth that he was mistreated by a man who gave him a ride in an automobile yesterday.

The youth appeared at the police station here and said that he had called a car at Costa Mesa and asked for a ride to Santa Ana. The driver of the car consented but instead of driving to Santa Ana the man turned off near the Eddie Martin Airport and took him up a lonely road.

The case was turned over to the sheriff's office due to the fact that the local police department does not have jurisdiction at the place where the crime was alleged to have been committed. The number of the car was obtained by police.

FIVE HURT WHEN DRIVER DROWSES

Five persons were injured at 2 a. m. yesterday when the driver of one automobile went to sleep and allowed his car to careen to the left side of the road, striking another car.

The accident occurred on Highway No. 101, between Tustin and Irvine. No one was seriously hurt.

One car was driven by Mrs. Frances C. Ballerino, 24, of 157 South Catalina street, Los Angeles and the other by Roger K. Huston, 24, of 3361 Fourth street, San Diego. The Ballerino car was travelling north, the Huston car south. It was almost a head-on collision.

Those injured were: Mrs. Ballerino, R. D. Knickerbocker, Los Angeles attorney, Bert Lissett, 25, Santa Ana; Roger Huston and J. R. Ferris, the latter of 1620 Thirtieth street, San Diego.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE REPORTED IMPROVED

The condition of Mrs. Ira Breedlove, 27, Los Angeles waitress who is reported to have attempted to take her life July 4, while visiting at the home of William Shaffer, 110 Haleday street, Santa Ana, was reported as improved today. She is a patient in the Orange county hospital.

According to a police report of the case, Mrs. Breedlove with H. M. Poe, also of Los Angeles, came to the Shaffer home at 1 p. m. on July 4. They had an argument and at 2:30 p. m. she was found lying in the bathroom.

Poe rushed her to the hospital. No other motive for the act was advanced by police.

Issue Warrant For Missing Defendant

Ben Black, Santa Ana brush salesman failed to keep an appointment with Justice Kenneth Morrison today after the court had allowed him his freedom on his own recognizance and so a bench warrant was issued to impress upon him the necessity of keeping appointments with judges.

Black was arrested several days ago on a charge of defrauding an inn-keeper, namely Mrs. Bessie Hanson, of 708 West Fourth street, who is the complaining witness. He then was released and told to appear at 9 a. m. today. The court waited until 10 and then issued the bench warrant.

Sheriff's officers also want an appointment with Black. It is said. He is reported wanted in Los Angeles county on a charge of issuing a few checks which are understood to be mere "scraps of paper."

Turner Funeral To Be Held Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Turner, of San Bernardino, who passed away in Fullerton July 4, as a result of injuries suffered in an auto accident, will be held from the Winbiger Funeral home, 609 North Main street, Santa Ana, tomorrow at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Turner is survived by her husband, John B. Turner, a son, L. M. Turner, local business man; and two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Bon Fillo of Angels Camp, California, and Mrs. Ona Reubensamen of Pomona.

Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Two Escape From Juvenile Home

Two youths in the juvenile home here escaped at 9:15 a. m. today by merely walking away from the place, according to a report on file at the sheriff's office.

The youths were Glenn Potts, 15, of 1027 West Chestnut street, and John Parker, 12, of the Queen apartments, Fullerton.

There are approximately 150,000,000 acres of forest reserves in the United States and Alaska.

BURNS GRAND THEFT TRIAL BEGINS TODAY

With Superior Judge G. K. Scovell back on the bench after an absence of more than a month during which time he was serving in San Diego on the appellate bench, the trial of Carl Burns, accused of two grand theft counts in a grand jury indictment returned last year, got under way this morning in department three of the superior court.

According to the indictment returned last year against Burns he is accused of stealing 35 shares of Southern California Edison company stock, valued at $1019.30 and $272.06 in cash from Miss Pauline Weide and 130 shares of Edison stock, valued at $3510 from Henry and Justine Weide, parents of Miss Weide.

Deputy District Attorney Leo Fris, who is in charge of the prosecution of Burns on the indictment, in his opening statement to the jury said that he expected to prove that Burns went to the Weide home last December and induced Miss Weide to turn over her shares of Edison stock and the cash to him in exchange for stock in the Associated Petroleum corporation upon his representation that the oil stock would pay her more interest.

When the stock was delivered, according to Fris, it was shares in the Transcontinental Petroleum corporation. This stock, according to Fris, was worthless as the corporation never operated. When Miss Weide protested, Burns, according to Fris, told her that she got what she ordered and if the stock was no good it could not be helped.

According to Fris, in his statement to the jury, Miss Weide was to receive 150 shares of Associated Petroleum stock for her Edison shares. When delivery was made Miss Weide received 75 shares of the Transcontinental corporation.

Attorney Otto Jacobs made no opening statement for the defense. M. A. Lesser, Los Angeles attorney, is associated with Jacobs in the Burns defense. Jurors hearing evidence in the case are: Mrs. Myrtle C. Rospaw, Sam Newnes, G. C. Roseman, Warren Mathis, Hugh Tyler, John E. Wagner, Arthur H. Benfield, Minnie G. Lockman, David Mann, Edward A. Chaffee, H. M. Lister, and Harry J. Twitchell.

Southland Spanish War Vets To Hold Picnic July 10

PLANS BEING COMPLETED BY CALUMPIT CAMP

Definite plans for a picnic to be held at Irvine park on Sunday, July 10 for all camps and auxiliaries in the Southland, were made at the regular meeting of Calumpit Camp No. 26, United Spanish War Veterans last night in the K. of P. hall, it was announced today by J. C. Farrar, camp adjutant.

Committee reports made at the meeting last night indicated that plans for the affair are well advanced. The picnic will last all day and will be featured by speeches and entertainment in addition to the dinner.

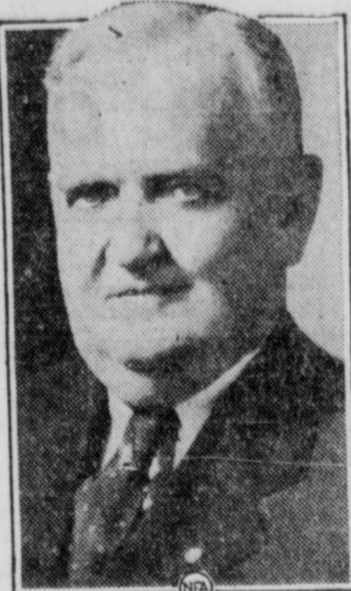

A. P. Entenze, Los Angeles attorney who is a past national commander of the United Spanish War Veterans and who is well known as an orator, will speak briefly at the affair. Judge Minor Moore, superior court judge of Los Angeles, also will deliver a brief address.

Musical numbers which are on the program include a noted singer and eleventh from Captain Baker Camp, Los Angeles, one of the few colored camps in the department of California.

All Spanish War veterans and their families were invited to attend the affair.

HEADS KIWANIS

The little town of Huntington, Ind., is claiming the presidential honors for international service clubs. Carl E. Endicott, below, banker and manufacturer of Huntington, was elected president of Kiwanis International at the organization's convention in Detroit, Mich. Five years ago, Arthur H. Sapp, Huntington attorney, was elected head of Rotary International.

TWENTY-THIRTY CLUB INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

Leland Finley was officially installed as president of the Santa Ana Twenty-Thirty club at the regular meeting of the club which was held last night in Ketter's cafe. Other new officers and directors were also installed. The new officers will serve for the next six months.

Dr. Horace Leeling was seated as first vice president of the club. Other officers installed were: George Bradley, second vice president; Leroy Burns, secretary; Charles R. Frazier, treasurer; Ray Fisher, sergeant-at-arms, and D. Hebet Strouchem, Richard Drew, Hubert Gohres and Hume West, directors.

Ray Fisher, outgoing president, made his farewell address to members of the club last night, thanking them for their cooperation and requesting the same support for the new officers. He outlined briefly the accomplishments of the club for the past six months and in closing turned the gavel over to Finley.

Finley outlined plans for the ensuing term and called for the incoming officers for brief talks. Entertainment was provided by Art Cannon, popular radio artist, who presented a group of piano selections.

Picnics and Reunions

NEW MEXICO, UTAH, NEVADA, ARIZONA
Every former resident of Arizona, Utah, New Mexico or Nevada is invited to the annual summer picnic reunion in Rialto park, Long Beach, all day Saturday, July 9. Judge Marion C. Spicer will voice the welcome to all the picnicers and the other speakers will be among the speakers. Each state will open county registers and will furnish silk badges. Tourists and visitors from these states are especially invited.

FREE SHOWS TO BE GIVEN FOR DAY IN SCOUT S. A. JOBLESS CAMP REVIEWED

BY A VISITOR

Every member of the Unemployed association of Santa Ana and their families will be afforded an opportunity to see a free show at the Fox Broadway or West Coast theaters on the coming Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday through plans completed today by the management of the theaters and The Register, cooperating in the movement.

Passes to the show will be given to T. A. Broderick, chairman of the unemployed association, who will in turn distribute them to members of the association. Members of the unemployed group and their families can attend either of the shows on any day they choose. One pass will be given to each member of the association and one pass for each member of the family.

The passes will be exchanged for tickets at the box office of the theaters upon presentation of the identification card showing the applicant to be a member of the unemployed group.

Those who attend the shows will be able to take their choice of two shows at the Broadway and two at the West Coast theater. A different show will be on the bill at the Broadway Thursday than for the previous three days and different shows will be on at the West Coast Monday and Tuesday, and Wednesday and Thursday.

Passes are good for either the afternoon or evening shows. The idea of affording members of the association and their families an opportunity to see a good show was born when a number of children who attended the show sponsored by the theaters, The Register and Stein's Stationery store last week were heard by Lew Newcomb, manager of the Broadway, to remark that that was the first show they had been able to attend for many months.

"While the association needs and appreciates all gifts of clothing, shoes, food and other commodities," Chairman Broderick stated today, "I am sure I speak for every member of the association in expressing sincere appreciation for the opportunity to see a good show. It is not often that men and women who are unemployed and have no source of income, are given an opportunity to go to a show."

Funeral Services Are Conducted for Former La Habra

LA HABRA, July 6.—Funeral services for Harold Fader, former La Habra, were held this afternoon at Angeles Abbey in Compton.

Fader, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Fader, of Arlington, died Sunday evening following an automobile accident which happened Friday evening at Arlington. In the collision between the two cars he was so severely injured that he never regained consciousness. His mother, Mrs. Charles Fader, is in the hospital very seriously injured, but reported to be recovering. His sister, Margaret, received injuries as did a boy friend who was riding with the family. One passenger in the other car suffered a broken shoulder.

Fader was a graduate of this year's class of the Arlington High school, having attended the La Habra grammar school.

He is survived by his parents, two sisters, Josephine and Margaret, and his grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Fader, of Yorba Linda.

DUCKING SHOWER OF STEEL IN CHILEAN REVOLT

Hurling themselves upon the ground to escape a stream of machine-gun fire, armed civilians and soldiers are shown here during a sanguinary riot centered about a gasoline station in Santiago, the Chilean capital. Three men were killed and several wounded in the fighting here—the sole bloodshed of the sudden, dramatic revolution which set up a Socialist government in Chile.

again and all filed down to the swimming pool, filled from the clear, pure waters of Hathaway creek, which by the way, gives the camp its entire water supply. A half hour's swim and the Scouts were at leisure for letter writing and personal activities until noon mess at 12:30. The meal consisted of string beans, cabbage salad, potatoes, roast beef and chocolate pudding. Visitors are high in their praise of the quality and quantity of the food.

Other Activities
At 1 o'clock a group of other Scouts assembled with packs for an overnight hike to "Greyback" (Mt. San Geronimo). Packs were checked for supplies, fire tools, fire permits, maps and compasses and first aid equipment; the roll was checked and the boys filed off for the night's outing and under the competent leadership of two experienced staff members.

The Scouts remaining in camp then engaged in a game of "War in Camp" or "Capture the Flag," with much uproar and running back and forth until 3 o'clock when a half hour of swimming again intervened.

At 4 o'clock the bats and balls were brought out and while one group played indoor baseball, another batted the volleyball back and forth across the net, all to the accompaniment of much lusty yelling.

While the games were in progress, a group of boys had gone "up the hill," under the leadership of one of the staff members, for a horseback ride. The horses aren't bluebloods but are safe and slow and yet what a thrill the boys get out of "kicking them in the ribs and making them go."

The impressive ceremony of "Retreat" was held at 5:30 and immediately followed by the evening mess followed by the distribution of the day's mail.

At 6:15 came group games and then, at 7:30 campfire hour. Campfire hour was lead by a young naturalist and adventurer, a man whose fame has spread across the Southwest. The programs consisted of songs, story telling and stunts by the Scouts themselves. The hour closed with an impressive ceremony that gave us all a feeling of awe and reverence for God's great outdoors.

At 8:45 "Call to Quarters" was sounded with "Taps" at 9. As the soft, lingering notes faded in the quiet dark, there was a twinge at the heart for boyhood days long past, a prayer for the boys and a hope for the man of tomorrow.

The discovery of the relation between tides of the sea and the moon is credited to the Phoenicians.

PLACENTIA, July 6.—Dawson Trotman, of the Fisherman club of Los Angeles, talked to the Placentia club boys at Calvary church Tuesday night in the absence of Don Milligan, leader, who is on vacation.

ANNOUNCING

as dealer for

HUDSON AND ESSEX CARS

"Rightly, the public has come to expect 'big things' from Hudson.

Through the years Hudson has led the way with a host of major advancements in the art of fine motor car manufacture. And never has this leadership been so strikingly evident as now.

"Our first glimpse of these new Hudson and Essex cars with their precedent-setting harmonizing of beauty with utility, of tremendous power with luxurious silence, of super-rugged construction with drawing-room comfort, convinced us.

as it will convince you, that here truly are the 'Pacemakers' for 1932.

"It is with a great deal of pride and satisfaction, therefore, that we are here able to announce our selection as Hudson and Essex dealers for Santa Ana and vicinity.

"Please accept this as a personal invitation to visit our showrooms at your earliest convenience to inspect these splendid new cars and the thoroughly modern service facilities we are prepared to place at your disposal."

Elvin E. Webb

"Deeply conscious of our obligation to the public and to the large body of Hudson and Essex owners in Santa Ana, it affords us unusual pleasure to be able to announce our appointment of Earl C. Anthony, Inc. as dealers for Hudson and Essex cars, the Pacemakers for 1932.

"The executives and personnel of the Earl C. Anthony, Inc. are men in whose integrity and judgment we have every confidence.

"Hudson and Essex owners and the general public are thus assured of receiving from this new associate of ours a courtesy and square-dealing consideration in every way in keeping with the high standards of the nation-wide Hudson reputation."

Thomas Glenn Returns From Europe With His Bride

The liveliest interest has been aroused among Santa Ana high school and junior college faculty members and other friends of Thomas H. Glenn, head of the English department, by the announcement that Mr. Glenn, returning from a year of study in Europe, was bringing with him his bride, formerly Miss Louise Mathilde Beesfelder, professor of French at the university in Paris where he has been studying.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Burr Wellington of Lemon Heights, were the first Santa Ana friends of Mr. Glenn to be informed of the wedding on June 16 and to them was sent a copy of the Paris edition of the New York Herald, containing the following account:

"An international wedding held in Paris last Thursday, was that of Miss Louise-Mathilde Beesfelder of Paris, to Mr. Thomas H. Glenn of South Carolina. The bride is a graduate of the University of Paris, and one of the most popular members of the faculty at the Alliance Francaise. She is also instructor of the French summer school at Middlebury, Vermont."

"Mr. Glenn is head of the English department of the high school and junior college at Santa Ana, Calif. He has been spending a year's leave of absence studying in Paris. He is a graduate of Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C., and also studied at Columbia, the University of California and Southern California and Oxford, England."

"After visiting the bride's parents in Wiesbaden, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn will sail for New York, remaining several weeks in the east before going to California, where they will make their residence. Among those attending the wedding breakfast at the Ritz were: Miss Pia Beesfelder, Miss Collette Martinez, Mr. W. Winthrop Burr, United States vice consul; Mr. and Mrs. John McNaught, Miss Margaret MacMasters and Miss Ulric R. Anger."

Japanese Film Program Is Attracting Much Interest Here

Sightseeing tours accomplished without the need of ocean voyages have come to be a favorite entertainment since the art of motion picture camera has been developed, and hence the Japanese picture program scheduled for Friday night in Ebell auditorium, bids fair to attract a large crowd to help swell the funds for Japanese Christian work in Orange county.

A small admission price will be asked for the program which will begin at 7:30 o'clock, and all proceeds will go towards the Japanese Independent church of Orange county, which is maintained at Bales, with the Rev. Takeuchi Ban as pastor. The Rev. Mr. Ban, also a teacher in the Los Angeles Pacific College, has made all arrangements for showing the film, which will be in two separate parts. The first will be a life of Buddha founded upon Sir Edwin Arnold's "The Light of Asia," and this will be succeeded by seven reels of scenic beauty spots of Japan. "The Four Seasons" will feature two reels, followed by "Views of Inland Seas," "Kyushu Island" and the shrine at Nikko.

The pictures were filmed by a German company with an all-Japanese cast, and have the sanction of the government and of the government railroad.

Mrs. Raymond Cowman Is Honor Guest at Gift Shower

In planning a 500 party as a compliment to Mrs. Raymond E. Cowman (Faustina Lopez), of the prettiest events of the past week, the hostess, Miss Delina Lopez, adopted a charming color effect of pink and blue which was successfully maintained in every detail of the evening.

The whole affair was carried out as a surprise to the honor guest, who had been spending the day in Long Beach at a picnic affair there, and whose presence in the home of Miss Lopez at 830 East Third street, was secured through a clever ruse. The guests were all assembled awaiting her arrival, and thoroughly enjoyed the happy surprise that it proved to be.

Great plumes of delphinium were combined with shell-pink gladioluses to provide the chosen colors in floral decorations and the general motif of the evening was established by a stately stork who presided over the scene. Small cards adorned the tally cards distributed for cards, and the session of 500 was soon underway.

Mrs. Charles Lopez, sister-in-law of the hostess, scored high in the game and Mrs. Cowman, the honoree, succeeded in making second high score. Joe cream was presented the pretty prizes, wrapped and tied in the prevailing colors.

For the refreshment hour, Miss Lopez spread card tables with daintily embroidered linens and at each place was used a quaint favor either of cunning baby shoes or of parasols, in pink and blue, holders of salted nuts and candies. Joe cream was stork mounds and individual cakes each had a white stork on its pink or blue icing. Refreshing iced tea completed the dainty menu in whose serving Miss Lopez had the assistance of Miss Henrietta Schaffer.

Miss Schaffer had prominent part in another phase of the evening also, and no one realized that she had withdrawn from the party until a knock at the door and a call for the honor guest revealed Miss Schaffer in the guise of a Western Union messenger. She bore a large parcel plainly marked for Mrs. Cowman, and that happy young matron had the pleasure of opening the box to find a bewildering array of packages. Each contained some contribution to the layette she is assembling, and one package in particular, sent by her mother, Mrs. Eloy Lucero, who was out of the city and unable to attend the party, contained a complete wardrobe of fairylike garments.

Miss Lopez had as guests, in addition to her honoree, Mrs. Cowman, the latter's sister, Mrs. Charlotte Martinez of San Antonio, Tex., and Mrs. Sydney Yorba of Monterey Park; Mrs. Alexander Jimenez of Anaheim; Mrs. Bert Moore, Miss Mary Lyn Wade, Miss Chloe Hendricks, Mrs. Charles Lopez and Miss Ruth Frothingham, Santa Ana; Miss Helen ("Carmelita") Krubel, Los Angeles; Miss Henrietta Schaffer and Miss Marie Labrucherie, Tustin, and two cunning child guests, little Doris Jean Cowman in pink ruffles, and little Yvonne Yorba in pale blue.

Pasadena Parsonage is Setting for Marriage Of Santa Ana Girl

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Brackett were honeymooning on Catalina Island today following their marriage, which took place Friday, July 1, in the First Christian Advent parsonage at Pasadena.

Mrs. Brackett, who was Miss Bertha Williams before her marriage, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Williams of 1324 East Third street. Neither she nor Mr. Brackett, a Monrovia man, was attended at the ceremony.

The Rev. Robert Sherman, a retired minister now resident in Pasadena, who performed the wedding service, is an old friend of the families of both bride and bridegroom, having served as pastor of the First Christian Advent church in Tustin, attended by the bride, and prior to that in the pulpit of the church attended by the Bracketts in New Hampshire.

Mrs. Brackett has been employed in the office of the Southern Service laundry since her graduation from Tustin Union High school. Her husband, who attended Washington college at Washington, D. C. during his father's service in the pension department at the capital, later attended Dartmouth university, entering the employ of the Home Laundry concern in New York city following graduation from that college. He is at present with the Southern Service laundry in Monrovia, where the couple will take up residence.

YOU and YOUR Friends

Mrs. Ethel Gruber of Los Angeles is a visitor in the D. M. Peters residence at 1022 North Broadway. Mrs. Gruber, who will remain in Santa Ana until the latter part of the week, was formerly acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Peters in Michigan.

Mrs. P. T. Isherwood of 719 East Walnut street, whose illness during the past month was occasioned by a stroke, is able to walk about once more and is said to be in a much improved condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur K. Getty of 820 South Parton street, who are entertaining four cousins from out of the state, escorted their guests to Long Beach this afternoon to an affair arranged by Mrs. Vinton Sylvester of that city for a group of 40 guests. The Gettys and their visitors were among first nighters attending the opening concert at the Hollywood Bowl last evening, while on the Fourth of July the Santa Anans were hosts at a dinner party and fireworks display at their home. Mrs. Getty's mother, Alice Grant, and her daughter, Miss Margaret Grant, assisting on this occasion. The holiday party included Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Sylvester and four daughters, Mesdames Ray Pool, R. M. Wildish, S. A. Johnston and L. C. Marshall and daughter, Clare; Miss Margaret Grant, Alice Grant and the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bond, 507 East Myrtle street, are spending their week end in the summer in their cabin in the mountains above Forest Home. Sharing the cabin with their guests the week end of the Fourth were Mr. and Mrs. Grant Dunbar of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Coates W. Leamer of this city.

Mrs. Olaf Erickson, 1315 Cypress street, left last night on the Golden State Limited for New York, where she will spend a month or two with her son and daughter-in-law, Lieutenant and Mrs. Lewis P. Harris.

Mrs. Joseph Bershter, 1137 South Van Ness avenue, was in Los Angeles today attending a luncheon and shower being given for her sister-in-law, Mrs. G. E. Harris of Los Angeles, by Mrs. Orville Ward, of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thompson, 212 East Edinger street, entertained this past week end at their cabin at Lake Arrowhead. Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Betty of Whittier, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence White of Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanner, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Neff and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lambert and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mize and family comprised a party of 16 Santa Anans traveling to Big Bear valley the week end of the Fourth.

Miss Enid Twist, 1520 North Main street, was expected to arrive this morning from the north, where she has been visiting friends for the past fortnight in San Francisco and in Berkeley.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Ryan, Mrs. Nannie Meyer and Mrs. Annie Arnold were among Santa Anans spending Monday at the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Cantlay of 2023 Greenleaf street are spending a month in their cottage at Balboa Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shaw of 714 West Eighth street visited friends in Forest Home the week end of the Fourth.

Miss Margaret Halladay and her cousin, Miss Jean Sherrill, of Fullerton, spent two days recently with Miss Halladay's grandmother, Mrs. Eva Halladay, 931 South Ross street.

Non-member Entertains Quill Pen Club in Orange Home

In various past meetings of the Quill Pen club, members of that little writing group have had the pleasure of entertaining as a guest, Mrs. Mabel Faulkner, Orange librarian. But last night the case was reversed, and Mrs. Faulkner served as hostess, with all Quill Pen members as guests in her home, 119 North Center street, Orange.

It was the usual program meeting of the group with members contributing stories, opening with one by Mrs. Blanche Brown which she had titled "Under the Big Top." As its name indicated, it was a story of circus life with an intriguing background for equally interesting characters. Mrs. Albert Harvey was not present, but had sent her manuscript, a story with a New England local color and a happy ending by Mrs. Harry M. Smith. All agreed that the story was cleverly plotted and most entertaining.

Mrs. R. A. Cushman read the third and final manuscript of the program, a manuscript that received the same close attention that her stories always demand from the club members.

The remainder of the evening was given over to friendly chat as Mrs. Faulkner, assisted by Mrs. J. D. Campbell, served an appetizing two-course refreshment menu.

Among plans made for summer meetings was that of July 19 when Mrs. Frank J. Was and Mrs. Marshall Harnols will entertain in the home of Mrs. Was, 617 Orange avenue. As this will be the last general club meeting before the departure of Mrs. Cushman for her new home in northern California, it will be a special affair in compliment to her and to Mrs. Herman Reuter, who has left Santa Ana to join Mr. Reuter in Hollywood. Members will spend the afternoon in the Was home, with reading, manuscripts, needlework and outdoor games to suit their pleasure. Dinner will follow and the evening will present the formal program features.

Members who last night enjoyed Mrs. Faulkner's hospitality were Mrs. Herman Reuter, who came from Hollywood for the event; Mrs. R. A. Cushman, Mrs. Frank Was, Miss Dorothy Clarkson, Mrs. N. E. Wells, Miss Verna Wells, Mrs. J. D. Campbell, Mrs. Marshall Harnols, Mrs. Roy Winchester, Mrs. J. U. Vian, Mrs. Harry M. Smith, Mrs. Blanche Brown, Mrs. Maude Goff, Mrs. C. M. McIntock, Mrs. S. B. Marshall and Miss Lella Watson.

Veteran Welfare Work Is Aided By Corps

Donations of food and of other materials for veteran welfare work were made at a party held by Sedwick Women's Relief corps members in the home of Mrs. Kate Sutton.

Light refreshments were served the women by their hostess at the close of an afternoon which was featured by an address by Mrs. Harry Edwards. Mrs. Edwards' talk concerned the work being conducted among the World War veterans whom the Relief Corps is endeavoring to aid.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Damascus White Shrine will meet in the Masonic temple Friday for a pot luck dinner at 6:30 o'clock for members and their families. Mrs. Hugh Henry will be in charge of the entertainment to be presented during the dinner hour. Cards will follow. The White Shrine circle will meet Tuesday, instead of Wednesday, as previously announced, with Mrs. Hugh Henry as Doheny Park. A pot luck luncheon will be served at noon. Each person attending is asked to bring her own covered dish, table service, and a white elephant.

The Richland Avenue M. E. Aid society will hold an all day meeting Thursday, beginning at 10:30 o'clock with Mrs. F. K. Stowe, 1429 South Garnsey street. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon.

The Pegasus club will meet in the northwest corner of Anaheim park Thursday at 12:30 o'clock. A box luncheon will precede the usual program hour.

The Dorcas society of the First M. E. church will meet at the church Friday at 2:30 o'clock.

The Women's auxiliary of the Church of the Messiah will hold an all day meeting Friday in the Parish hall, the members planning to assemble at 10 a. m. to spend the day in sewing for the unemployed. Each member is asked to bring her own requirements in sandwiches to augment the host dish to be served at the noon luncheon.

The Musical Arts club will meet Friday noon for a luncheon in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe at 1330 North Main street. Mrs. Robert Northcross will be hostess on this occasion.

PEPPY PEPPER
BROCKTON, Mass.—Local police feel rather embarrassed, letting a prisoner twice slip through their grasp in one afternoon. Immediately after arresting a man named Alexander Pepper on a public morals charge, he jumped through a closed, screened window 20 feet to the sidewalk below. Recaptured, he was being taken to the station house when he again broke away, making good his escape through the crowd.

Monactor Impresses With Version of Negro Work

An evening of sheer enjoyment rewarded the several dozen guests who last night availed themselves of Ione Tunison Peck's invitation to a recital in her studio home, 1612 North Broadway, where Albert Johnson, well known monactor of New York and California, gave a dramatic version of "Of Man Adam and His Children," from which the play "The Green Pastures" was written.

Inimitable fashion, the talented young Redlands University graduate and drama student at Yale, portrayed the succession of Biblical characters with convincing realism after a brief introductory talk in which he outlined the general motif of the production.

He pointed out that the play, like the book, is meant to portray the Negro idea of the white man's Paradise, and can in no sense be termed sacrilegious, since it is a sincere and unaffected presentation. The touches of humor are equally sincere, he explained, expressing the buoyant, sunny nature of the race. With this explanation the audience felt an increased enjoyment of the opening scenes, where heaven was expressed to the childlike and naive Negro mind, by a "fish fry."

The Angel Gabriel, countless cherubs and other heavenly denizens, were presented realistically, with Adam Himself, benign and fatherly.

Adam and Eve, Noah, Moses, Aaron, and other Biblical characters were given equally convincing, and the hour of the program was all too short for the deeply interested audience.

Mr. Johnson's voice and diction were especially pleasing, and his was the not-too-frequent ability to present the Negro dialect as it should be done. His power of facial expression seemed to augment the pleasing timbre of his voice, and those present expressed the wish that it might be possible to hear him in a series of play readings during his summer here in Orange county.

It was felt that he has a decided future in the type of dramatic work which he has adopted, and his repertory includes many and varied plays which have proven successful on the eastern stage. He and Mrs. Johnson (the former Bertha French of Orange) greeted the guests at the close of the program, Mrs. Peck receiving with them.

Definite Dates Named For Various Orders At Art Exhibit

While the general public has been invited to call at the Gustlin Music-Arts studios, 819-821 North Sycamore street, to view the display of fine paintings by some of the most noted American artists now on exhibition there, the exhibit is attracting so much attention that Clarence Gustlin, studio head, today announced certain afternoons and evenings this week and next for certain organizations.

The studios are open to callers who may wish to inspect the handsome new home and view the pictures, any week-day afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, but members of the American Legion and all patriotic orders were especially invited to be present this afternoon and the evening from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

The same hours will prevail on other afternoons and evenings of this and next week, with tomorrow designated as the time for the service clubs of Orange county, all of whose members will be especially welcomed. Friday will be Masonic day, with all Masons and allied Masonic bodies receiving special invitations.

On Thursday afternoon and evening, July 14, Parent-Teacher association members and private music and art teachers will be the honored guests, and on Friday, July 15, special invitation has been issued to members of the Civic Music association of Orange county; Cantando and Treble Clef clubs; Ebell Music and Art sections; Santa Ana Community Players, and all city and county music, art and drama groups.

These invitations have been extended to the members of the various organizations to include their wives, husbands or friends, and the whole affair is purely complimentary on the part of Mr. Gustlin. The pictures are hung through the co-operation of the Fern Burford galleries of Laguna Beach.

ATWOOD
ATWOOD, July 6.—Buster Barbre, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Barbre, has left for Emporia, Kansas, near where he plans to spend the summer on the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lamb. Guests over the holidays at the Newport Beach home of the Barbres were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Barbre, and son, Junior; John McNeil, Mrs. Ruth Barbre, Mrs. Marie Barbre, Mrs. Clementine Barbre and children, John and Mary Alice; Mrs. Tylene McNeil and Bert Gerfen, of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brown, of Atwood, and J. Calvin Selinger, of Orange.

Mrs. J. B. Hayton, who has been visiting her husband at his mine at Quincy, returned to her home here Tuesday.

Frank Hartwick, former Atwood resident, now of Olinda, who was seriously injured in an automobile wreck several months ago, visited in Atwood Tuesday.

Mrs. E. P. Francis and Miss Pearl Griffith, accompanied by Mrs. J. F. Nittel, of Piacentia, spent Wednesday in Los Angeles.

Informal Outing in Park Shared By Club Folk

A picnic supper in the woody surroundings accorded by Irvine park awaited members of the Mayflower club who made the trip to the canyon last night with their husbands for an outing which proved as enjoyable as any within the experience of the group this past year.

Members found the park especially lovely and spread their picnic fare on long tables under the trees soon after arriving. Arrangements for the supper being ably superintended by Mrs. Ray Stauffer and Mrs. Edward W. Cochems, who decorated with many flowers.

To Mrs. Ray W. Ford, who has served the club as president this past year, the women in the society presented a gift of a bed spread in token of appreciation for her work in their behalf, while an expression of gratitude was made for the faithfulness of Mrs. William Lawrence, who recently was returned as club secretary for another term and who received a salad set from the members. Mrs. A. C. Wiebe succeeds Mrs. Ford as leader of the society.

An invitation was extended members to participate in a pot luck luncheon to be given in the home of Mrs. Clarence Arnold, 1324 West Third street, on Tuesday, August 2, when Mrs. R. C. Butler and her mother, Mrs. Charles Bolin, will assist in entertaining.

Journeying to the park for last evening's party were Messrs. and Mesdames J. H. Patison, Ray L. Stauffer and son, Gerald; Milton Kellogg, William Lawrence and daughters, Jean and Eleanor; J. W. Parkinson and daughter, Peggy Louise; V. C. Shilder and daughters, Betty and Jacqueline; A. C. Wiebe and daughter, Evelyn; Archie Perkins; Mesdames Laura Sanborn and Edward W. Cochems. Special guests at the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bell and Miss Janice Rhine.

RUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, July 6.—Mr. Mrs. Samuel Ingwersen and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Moore spent the Fourth with relatives of the Ingwersens in Los Angeles, about 40 being present at the affair.

Mrs. Lear Lee joined her daughter and son-in-law at a house party held near Saugus over the Fourth. Present were Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Larsen, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Maple and Dr. Erickson.

Miss Olive O'Brien entertained with a dinner party Monday evening at her home on Fullerton avenue, having as guests, her brother, Art O'Brien, and family, of Anaheim, and Harry Johnson, and her father, J. O'Brien.

Miss Margaret Battelle and Miss Emily Binder have returned from a visit at Long Beach with Miss Binder's grandmother, Mrs. W. L. Olson.

Miss Carol Battelle has been the guest of friends in Santa Monica for the past few days.

The Rev. W. I. Newman gave the Sunday evening sermon at the Congregational church, choosing as his topic, "Peace Time Patriotism." It was announced that members of the C. E. will talk on the Sherman Institute at the services next Sunday evening.

GARLAND BOYS WILL REPEAT KREG SUCCESS

Fred and Ted Garland made good in a great big way with their initial program last week over radio KREG and expect to repeat their success tonight with another feature offering. Fred, who is the vocalist for the team has arranged a group of delightful numbers and his brother will play a pleasing group of piano solos.

Among the vocal solos to be included in Fred Garland's portion of the program will be: "Gypsy Love Song," "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Mother in Ireland" and "Goodnight, Dear Star." Ted Garland will play in his piano program, "Bud Rag" by Cross; "Indiana" one of the famous "Three Shades of Blue" by Verda Grofe; "Uncle Sammy at the Piano," an arrangement of Dixie and Yankee Doodle, and "The Rosary."

Another feature of tonight's broadcast will be another collection of snappy music by Carlos Molino and his Coconut Grove Tango Orchestra. Although this program is broadcast by electrical transcription Molino and his musicians are very anxious to grant request numbers. Requests sent to the studio of KREG or to the Gray-Gone Laboratories in Hollywood will be included in future programs by this popular dance orchestra.

A second electrical transcription scheduled for tonight will feature the ever popular Jacques Jou-Jerville String Orchestra in a program of semi-classics and lighter classics.

KREG NOTES

Oh! Oh! Oh! Mr. "A. P. Plington" the super-snooper of the Hollywood Keyhole program is going to give us the lowdown tonight on why the Mayor of Albany refused to marry Patty Arbuckle. Unless the mayor of Albany is a lady there are a million answers to that one. If the mayor of Albany is a lady there are still a lot of answers left.

Little Church of the Wildwood, sponsored by Central Memorial Park, tomorrow will feature a talk by the Rev. R. C. Rogers, pastor of the Nazarene church of Placentia. He will deliver a talk especially for shut-ins and will sing a group of his own songs.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References are Pacific Standard Time

Representative Fred M. Vinson Kentucky will talk on "How to Relieve the Burden of Double Taxation" in the American Taxpayers League program over a coast NBC network from 4 to 4:15 p. m. today. The broadcast will be released by KFSD.

Merle Alcock, former Metropolitan Opera company contralto, will make her first appearance with the Revelers Quartet and Victor Young's orchestra on an NBC network-wide program over 9:15 to 9:45 p. m. today. For her first program Miss Alcock has selected "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from "Samson and Delilah," Carrie Jacobs Bond's "Just a Wearyin' for You" and "Oh, Promise Me" from "Robin Hood." KFI and KFSD will release the program.

'PIANO MOODS' TO FEATURE PROGRAM

Three programs of outstanding interest are scheduled for tomorrow's early broadcast over radio KREG. The most outstanding of the three presentations is scheduled for 3:45 p. m. When Reg Allen, chief announcer for the station, will present a program of "Piano Moods." Allen, in addition to his work as an announcer, is able to prepare musical continuity for programs being presented through the studio, is a pianist of more than average ability. He does not announce the numbers to be presented before the program making of his presentation just what the name implies "Piano Moods."

Later in the afternoon "The Lonely Troubador" and his gang will offer another phase of their "Song Limerick" contest. This feature has become so popular that responses have come from all sections of Southern California. One enthusiastic listener sent in 12 verses at once, according to studio officials.

During the morning another program featuring baseball personalities will go on the air. Vern Gomez and Rogers Hornsby are the players to be featured in the presentation tomorrow.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

Try the Tomato Pie

Sometimes we wish that the Irish hadn't been potato-minded when the gallant Sir Walter Raleigh discovered and took back potatoes to England—and the world so!

Certainly, they put them on the map as the standard dinner vegetable for the Anglo-Saxon race. If you want to get away from them for a chance you might like to try the Tomato Pie a reader has been good enough to share with us.

TOMATO PIE

Peel and slice ripe tomatoes, rather thick slices, and enough for three layers. Line sides of a baking dish with baking powder biscuit dough (evidently not the bottom A. M.) Put layer of tomatoes in bottom of dish, seasoning with pepper, salt and about a teaspoonful of sugar. Cover with cracker or bread crumbs and bits of butter. Treat each layer the same way and cover with the dough rolled out a scant half-inch thick. Bake in a medium quick oven and serve with broiled steak.

TODAY RECIPE

Uncooked Prune Whip
2 cups cooked prune pulp
1-2 cup sugar
1-2 cup heavy cream
Juice of 1-2 orange
Garnish for top of orange slices
Cook prunes in little water, or soak them overnight, then steam them soft. Take pits out of enough to make 2 cups of pulp. Chop the pulp fine, then puree it by forcing through a sieve or potato ricer. Add the sugar and orange juice and fold into the half cup of cream which has been whipped stiff.

Chill the whip, or you might freeze it a trifle and have it all the better. Just put it in the freezing pan and do not stir. Serve in sherbet cups and decorate the tops with thin slices of oranges.

The calories in this dessert are fat and energy makers, a fault common to all desserts, almost, and to most of the delectable foods. There are 1800 calories in the prune whip, and the serving number eight.

Perfection Sun Jam is easily made: Measure the berries or whatever the fruit may be, and measure an equal amount of sugar into the preserving kettle. Add just a tiny bit of water, and let the syrup slowly form. A soon as it is hot enough to bubble slip the fruit in cannyly, boil briskly for exactly 5 minutes then put in the jars and in the sun for 24 hours. Cover with fly netting while out of doors. Paraffin the tops before putting away.

MYSTERY FILM STARTS TODAY AT WEST COAST

A cast of compelling screen personalities, coupled with an unusual murder mystery from the pen of the increasingly popular Tiffany Thayer, makes "Strangers of the Evening," the Tiffany picture which opens at the Fox West Coast theater today one of the outstanding murder mysteries of the year.

Adapted from the novel, "The Illustrious Corpse," the picture has retained all of the merit of the book with the addition of several comedy situations.

Zasu Pitts, whose brand of comedy is said to add much to the mystery comedy, "Strangers of the Evening," which opens today at the Fox West Coast theater.

Zasu Pitts in her never failing, mournful comedy; Lucien Littlefield as the happy gentleman who has lost his memory and with it his name; Harold Walbridge as the frightened undertaker's assistant; and Eugene Palette and Francis Sayles, the two bewildered detectives, furnish a riot of comedy that lifts this murder story from any chance of becoming morbid.

The remainder of the cast about whom the story revolves includes Miriam Segar and Theodor von Elitz in the romantic leads, with Tully Marshall, Warner Richmond, Mahlon Hamilton, Alan Roscoe, William Scott, Charles Williams and James Burtis. The direction of H. Bruce Humberstone was sincere and sympathetic.

RED HEADED WOMAN ENDS SHOWING HERE

"Red Headed Woman," by Katherine Brush, which has been showing at the Fox Broadway theater since Sunday, ends its Santa Ana showing today.

The picture, headed by a splendid cast, which includes Joan Harlow as the red headed woman, Lewis Stone, Chester Morris, Lella Hyams and Una Merkel is the story of a gold digging stenographer who lets nothing stand in her way towards her goal, that of wealth and position.

The story which ran in the Cosmopolitan was nationally read and enjoyed. The film version is very much like the book.

Miss Harlow is splendid in the part of the red headed woman. She manages to leave the same impression the heroine of the book did that of an utter distaste for her and her type, but the picture is highly entertaining throughout.

SEVEN STARS SEEN IN NEW BD'WAY FILM

For the first time in their screen careers, seven of Hollywood's leading stars were working in two pictures at once.

This unusual happening took place when Maurice Chevalier, Charles Ruggles, Sylvia Sydney, Fredric March, Claudette Colbert, Olive Brook and Jack Oakie were assigned roles in the dramatic comedy, "Make Me a Star," which opens Thursday at the Fox Broadway theater, featuring Joan Blondell, Stuart Erwin, Zasu Pitts and Ben Turpin.

Each of the seven stars was appearing in other productions at the Paramount studios necessitating double duty in order to appear in the studio sequences which are a part of the plot-action in "Make Me a Star."

Stuart Erwin plays the part of the country store clerk who launches himself into the waiting arms of the movie barons and meets with the heart-break and disappointments which so many young men and women have experienced.

Joan Blondell, Zasu Pitts and Ben Turpin head the supporting cast.

Placentia Church Picnic On Friday

PLACENTIA, July 6.—Next Friday at 10 a. m. members of the Presbyterian Sunday school, church, and Vacation Bible school will leave the church for Ganesha park, Pomona, for the annual picnic.

Evion Baaten, of Spadra, will be in charge of games and Mrs. Horace Lucy of the picnic lunch that will be served at noon.

Thursday the Bible school, in session three weeks, will close.

At the end of each week an exhibit of work accomplished has been displayed at the school, which is in charge of Mrs. J. D. Brigham and Mrs. William Wallop.

Of course when Duncy found that he had caved the horse in, he said, "Gee! I really didn't mean to spoil the fun that was in store."

I thought that I could take a ride upon the funny-looking hide. I promise I'll behave and not pull mean tricks any more."

"You better not," said Windy. "We were getting on just famously, when suddenly we took a plop and almost bent in two."

"You might have known we couldn't hold a lad like you, but I won't scold. We'll straighten up the horse and then some more good tricks we'll do."

It didn't take them long to get back into shape. "Well, now we're set to try a little jumping," shouted Copy, with a grin.

"Hold up a stick and we will try to jump right over. Me, oh my, I'm sure that we'll be clever and I can't wait to begin."

The stick was held just off the ground. The Tinies swung the horse around and Scout shouted,

"All right, go! The jump is not so steep."

But, when wee Windy did his jump, he kicked poor Copy with a thump. It didn't hurt the lad, but they both landed in a heap.

Poor Windy crawled out of the mess and very shortly said, "I guess that we have had enough of that." And Copy quite agreed.

Just then brave Scotty shouted, "Hey! A balloon is coming right this way. 'Twill land here very shortly 'cause it's coming down with speed."

The big balloon soon reached the ground and all the Tinies gathered 'round. A man stepped out of it and said, "Who wants to take a ride?"

"We do! We do!" the Tinies said. "We'd like to sail 'round overhead." The man then snapped right back at them, "All right then, crawl inside."

Manager Of Bank Appointed On City Council

EVERETT TAKES PLACE A. IPSEN IN PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, July 6.—E. M. Everett, manager of the Placentia branch of the Bank of America, was appointed city councilman last night to fill the place of A. Ipsen, who died recently.

Mr. Everett has been manager of the branch bank many years, and is connected with all civic welfare programs. His appointment will place him in office to serve until next spring at the expiration of Mr. Ipsen's term of office. Appointment was made at the regular meeting of city councilmen.

First reading of an ordinance placing a two dollar license fee on distribution of advertising was held.

Mrs. Nellie M. Cline is to investigate and report back to the oil companies that are delivering in Placentia without paying license fees.

Engineer George Bates suggested that the council consult with other city councils concerning the pro-rating of the gas tax money, and before taking action recommending or condemning the proposed diverting of the tax to other channels. At present, Placentia is allowed $2555 as her share of the three-cent gas tax, distributed by the supervisors of the county, he said. Councilman C. B. Young is to assist Bates in the investigation.

T. E. Pickrell reported $69 has been collected in fines the past month.

Councilmen requested that detailed police and street department reports be turned in each month.

Boat Followed By Frigate Bird

NEWPORT BEACH, July 6.—One of the few frigate birds seen in this part of the world in recent years followed the Dundee, Balboa fishing charter boat, nearly all the way from the Coronado Islands to this port, it was stated today by members of the fishing party who arrived here.

The frigate bird, sometimes called the man-of-war bird, is a white bird with unusually large wings, compared to the size of its entire body. This specimen had wings seven or eight feet long, it was stated. The frigate bird gets much of its food, consisting of fish, by preying on other birds.

J. B. McNally, owner of the Dundee, said that the frigate bird rarely comes this far north, but this one followed the boat for nearly 100 miles. Those in the fishing party included R. B. Colne, Dr. R. E. Dowd, Dr. R. W. Prince, Thomas Dowd, Charles B. Wood, Ralph Mothershead, F. L. Mallory and E. E. Tyler, all of San Bernardino. They reported the fishing on the trip as excellent.

CONDUCT FUNERAL

FULLERTON, July 6.—Last rites for Marie Marmolejo, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julio Marmolejo, 211 Truslow avenue, who died Saturday night at her home, were held from the residence at 9 a. m. yesterday, with McAlulay and Suters, funeral directors, in charge. Interment was at Loma Vista.

India Bishop To Talk In Fullerton Sunday Morning

FULLERTON, July 6.—On Sunday morning Bishop J. W. Robinson, from Delhi, Punjab province, India, will speak at the Fullerton Methodist Episcopal church, it was announced today.

$131,408.94 IN GENERAL FUND OF BEACH CITY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 6.—The city council held a brief session last night with the business that came up mostly of a routine nature. Reports of department heads were read and filed. The city treasurer, Harvey Young, and the city clerk, C. R. Furr, reported $131,408.94 in the treasury. Of this sum the general fund has $23,139.23; music and promotion fund, $2088.75; library fund, $603.58; street improvement fund, $1675.94; accounts payable fund, $4011.87. The rest of the cash on hand is in various bond funds. There is a total of $51,121.93 in personal taxes that has not been appropriated to any fund.

Fire Chief J. K. Sargent reported 35 fire alarms in June. The property threatened was valued at $347,775. The total loss was $15,315, with insurance coverage of $14,000. Chief L. F. Keller of the police department reported 77 arrests during the month and 123 additional calls. Two burglaries were cleared up, one forger brought to justice, four were arrested and convicted for possession of liquor and three were charged with drunkenness and convicted.

Judge C. P. Patton of the city court heard 43 cases and assessed and collected a total of $382 in fines.

Mayor Elson G. Conrad reappointed C. P. Patton and Ray Elliott to the library board, their terms having expired July 1.

Sam Crook, Seventeenth street resident, complained of the O. C. Field gasoline plant at Seventeenth and Palm. He objected to unnecessary noises. Mayor Conrad promised that the city would enforce the ordinance requiring adequate mufflers for the plant and named John H. Marlon, chairman of the oil and industry committee, as a committee of one to make a special investigation of the plant.

The council adjourned to meet July 13 at 10 a. m.

Conduct Funeral Of Beach Child, 7

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 6.—Funeral services for Charles McNeil, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. McNeil, Twelfth street, Huntington Beach, who died Sunday at the Orange County hospital, were held today.

NEWPORT VISITOR

NEWPORT BEACH, July 6.—Dr. A. R. Hatcher, physician of Wellington, Kan., is here with his wife and three children spending the summer. Dr. Hatcher recently underwent a serious operation in the Mayo hospital at Rochester, Minn., and came here to recuperate. They are living in the J. W. Carmichael house at 1618 West Oceanfront.

PARTY HONORS GARDEN GROVE BRIDAL COUPLE

GARDEN GROVE, July 6.—Members of the Baptist church and friends joined in giving a surprise reception recently in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Schumacher, whose marriage was an event of June 11 at Hawthorne. Mrs. Schumacher was Miss Maud Aronholt before her marriage. The affair was held at their home on Seventh street. During the evening Mrs. Horace Hemphill sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "If Any Little Word of Mine," accompanied at the piano by Miss Elizabeth Lehnhardt. Miss Grace Hedstrom gave an original reading in honor of the bride and groom after which several guessing games were enjoyed.

Mrs. J. G. Allen on behalf of the guests presented the couple with a set of silver knives and forks.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were enjoyed. Those present besides the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Schumacher, were Rev. and Mrs. E. Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. George Hemphill, Mr. and Mrs. James Cockerham, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Allen and sons, Leroy, Archie, Junior and Bennie, Mrs. C. E. Hurlburt, Mrs. Eloise Gertly, Mrs. Margaret Beardsley, Mrs. Hattie Beardsley, Mrs. Fannie Barr, Mrs. Horace Hemphill, Mrs. E. H. Darling, Mrs. E. L. Arrowsmith and daughter, Grace Lovel, Mrs. Pearl Dufrain, Mrs. Dena Emerson, Mrs. J. A. Knapp, and the Misses Dorothy Beardsley, Fontella Hudson, Margaret Lehnhardt, Elizabeth Lehnhardt, Esther Cockerham, Dorothy Knapp, Zelma Jones, Margaret Arrowsmith, Jennie, Edith and Grace Hedstrom, Anna and Vester Bruskey, Rose Shinto and Kimmie Matsukane.

Woman Fined $150 On Liquor Charge

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 6.—Rosalia De La Ruis, of Do Henry Park, who was arrested on Monday by Constable Al Jimenez for possession of liquor, was found guilty in Judge John Landell's court yesterday. She was given a sentence of 150 or 150 days in the county jail.

FULLERTON CITY COUNCIL PLANS KITCHENS IN PARKS; GAS STATION PERMIT GRANTED

FULLERTON, July 6.—Work is to begin soon on sheltered kitchens for both Commonwealth and Hillcrest parks and on a rest room for the Hillcrest park, the three improvements to cost approximately $1,000, with action taken by Fullerton city councilmen, when they acted favorably on recommendation of the park committee, T. K. Gowen and W. B. Potter, at the regular meeting last night.

The council referred a request of the City Nurses association for gas plants in the park, to the park committee at the meeting June 21, which resulted in the recommendation for the improvement.

Councilmen will visit both places today and are to recommend the location of the improvements.

Fullerton councilmen joined their voices to those of other organizations in adopting a resolution similar to that requested by the Los Angeles board of supervisors asking that necessary legislation be passed by United States congress to provide for raising funds to start work on the Colorado river.

Copies of a resolution passed by councilmen against the diversion of the three-cent gas tax is to be sent the Oakland city council as well as to the League of Municipalities and the State Department of Public Works.

A request to have a strip of sidewalk on West Brookdale fixed was placed in the hands of the street committee.

Permission to place a service station at 510 North Harvard, north of the Ebell club, was granted Robert Stutler, providing that the matter of removing certain trees from the parkway be settled with the city committee.

Permission was granted E. M. Summelle to place a service station at Valencia and Highland avenues, west of the main part of the city.

Chief of Police J. M. Pearson was granted a two-weeks vacation to begin July 15, with Desk Sergeant John Gregory appointed to fill his place.

A sum not to exceed $400 was voted for special police purposes. The assessment rolls were approved and filed.

License permits for three pool halls were given, two for six-month periods to A. Ortiz and Alex Luzar and one for a two-month period to J. A. Barker.

Mayor Hale announced mayors of Orange county are to be guests of the Orange County Builders' exchange July 19.

BRIDGE ENJOYED
COSTA MESA, July 6.—Among the lovely week end parties was one held at the A. P. Nelson home on Newport boulevard where bridge was played.

Mrs. W. H. Guthrie won first prize and Mrs. C. J. Huston the second. Others playing were Mesdames W. H. Evans, Dolores Morrison, J. O. Tallman, H. R. Fuller, and Miss Alice Plumer.

Twenty-seven United States submarines are out of commission.

PLACENTIA, July 6.—Harry N. Jenks, sanitary engineer of Berkeley, said it is more of a task to determine the economics, than to design the engineering features of the control and reclamation problem. Jenks, introduced by R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the Orange County Farm bureau, talked at the Placentia Chamber of Commerce meeting yesterday, declaring reclamation of sewage is not a new problem, but one that has been successfully operated since June, 1928, in the Grand Canyon, where it was installed by the United States health service. From an economical point of view, it has been successful, also.

In an impromptu talk on the lack of co-operation of orange growers in pro-rating the marketing of fruit, Harry O. Easton, manager of the Placentia Mutual Orange association, said that "If those who agree on a pro-rating program fail to stick, do not blame the packing houses, blame your neighbor who refuses to co-operate."

Easton said that the price of oranges immediately began to rise when the pro-rating program was in operation, and that a raise of 50 cents a box to the consumer means very little, while the difference to the grower in that of profit and loss, when oranges are selling at the border line, Easton praised R. D. Flaherty on his efforts to bring about equitable distribution of fruit.

In keeping with the policy of the chamber to give all candidates for public office a chance to present their platforms, Roland Thompson, of Santa Ana, city attorney of Newport Beach, talked a few minutes. He is running for superior court judge.

R. J. McFadden and John Tuffree talked on spreading of water, Tuffree expressing the opinion that water originating in Orange county, as in Santiago creek, should be partly released for the lower regions, and not held back entirely and spread in valleys that have no run-off in the regular course of the stream.

SCHOOL TEACHER OF BUENA PARK BRIDE

BUENA PARK, July 6.—Word has been received from San Diego of the marriage of Miss Florence McRae, a member of the teaching staff of the Grand Avenue school, and Richard Earl Reese at the Voorhis chapel in San Dimas. Mrs. Reese will return to teach next year.

C. B. Ford Rites Held In Fullerton

FULLERTON, July 6.—Services for Charles B. Ford, 63, of Pacific Grove and formerly of Fullerton, who died at his home July 2, were held from the McAlulay and Suters funeral chapel at 3:30 p. m. yesterday.

The services were in charge of the Rev. George Tinsley, pastor of the Fullerton Christian church. Among those who survive are two sons and a daughter, John Ford, of Costa Mesa, and Mack Ford, of Alexandria, Ind., and Mrs. Mary Forbes, of British Columbia, and four sisters and three brothers in the east.

LAGUNA BEACH LIQUOR FINES $1175 IN DAY

LAGUNA BEACH, July 6.—Violators of the liquor laws, who were arrested in large numbers over the week end and holiday, met little sympathy when arraigned before City Judge Montrose LeStrange yesterday. Fines totaling $1175 were assessed and most of the offenders were given jail sentences, to be suspended if the fines are paid.

Since he took office, June 1, Judge LeStrange has levied fines totaling more than $1700. The reason given by the city council of Laguna Beach for ousting former City Judge C. C. (Gavy) Cravath was that he had been too lenient.

L. D. Ayers, charged with sale and possession, was fined $150 and given a 90-day sentence to be suspended if the fine is paid. His employer, C. C. Williams, who has a fish market on Coast boulevard, pleaded not guilty and was held in $500 for trial July 12.

Ray Archer, who several weeks ago paid a fine of $50 on a possession charge when Cravath was judge, was assessed $200 on a sale and possession charge and given 100 days in jail, to be suspended if the fine is paid.

Truman Fisher, who has served a jail sentence, was fined $200 and given a 90-day sentence, to be suspended if the fine is paid. He paid $50 down and was given permission by the court to pay the balance at 25 per cent. The case against Art Davis, arrested with him, was dismissed for lack of evidence.

E. Merrill Leavitt, New York student, pleaded guilty and was fined $150 and given a straight jail sentence of 60 days.

Thomas J. Cavaness of Santa Ana, arrested when officers found a dozen bottles of home brew in his car, paid a straight fine of $50.

George S. Lowe was given a fine of $200 and a 90-day jail sentence on a charge of transportation. William McElhannon, arrested with him, was given a similar sentence on a possession charge.

William Hall paid a fine of $25 on an intoxication complaint. Two Los Angeles men, M. William and R. D. Campbell, put up $50 bail each on driving while intoxicated and intoxication charges and their cases will be heard next week.

Beek Chairman Of Judging Group For Lights Event

NEWPORT BEACH, July 6.—Commodore J. A. Beek, well known Southern California yachtsman, who managed the Newport - Balboa Tournament of Lights for several years and was chiefly responsible for developing it from the small water carnival from which it originated, will be chairman of the tournament judging committee on July 16.

Announcement of Beek's acceptance of this appointment was made today by Harry H. Williamson, chairman of the Lights committee of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the event.

M. S. Robinson, harbor master and grand marshal of the parade this year, is lining up all entries, and it is expected that the parade will be able to start at 7:30 o'clock, north of Lido Isle, proceeding eastward along the north shore of the entire peninsula, then turning north to the south shore of Balboa Island.

One of the year's highest tides on the evening of the 16th will enable the illuminated boats to pass close to the shore at all points, Robinson said.

FOOD GIVEN TO 80 PLACENTIA CHILDREN DAILY

PLACENTIA, July 6.—Continuing the work started by teachers of the La Jolla, the Richfield, and the Baker street schools, and assisted by the teachers, the Placentia Parent-Teacher association is feeding 80 children a lunch each morning.

The work is being supervised under the general chairmanship of Mrs. O. D. Heck, school nurse, and Mrs. Oscar Carlson, retiring president of the P.T.A.

Those in charge meet each morning at the American Legion hall and prepare the lunches, which they distribute to the children at the three schools.

The first week, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Gladys Klobstad, Mrs. Zella Salvo and Mrs. Edythe Phillips were in charge. The second week, Mrs. Beattie Twombly, Mrs. Norma Brastad and Mrs. Claude Porter served the lunches. This week, Mrs. Hampton, Mrs. Vera Crooke, Mrs. Floy Denny and Miss Marie Cline are serving the children, and next week, Mrs. J. H. Rymer, Mrs. Dennis and Mrs. LeRoy Lyon will be in charge.

To assist in making sandwiches, Mrs. Carlson is asking that donations of jams and jellies be left at the Legion hall between 9 and 10 a. m. She also suggests that other food donations would be acceptable, for in caring for these children, the committee women often find many needs among other members of the families.

Daniel Webster, who was the greatest orator of his day, had difficulty in reciting his lessons when a boy because of bashfulness.

THE WEATHER

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

DOESN'T SEE WHY GROWN-UPS ARE ALWAYS FUSSING ABOUT THE WEATHER

NOW FOR HIS PART HE LIKES ALL KINDS OF WEATHER

WHEN IT'S SNOWING HE CAN SPEND HOURS WATCHING THE SNOWFLAKES DRIFT DOWN

AND RAIN MAKES SUCH A PRETTY SOUND ON THE ROOF

AND ON WINDY DAYS IN THE FALL HE CAN WATCH LEAVES BLOWING AROUND

AND IN THE SPRING THERE ARE FLOWERS AND EVERYTHING IS GREEN

BECAUSE WHEN EVERYONE MAKES A FUSS OVER HIM THINKING HE MUST BE HAVING A MISERABLE TIME IN THE HEAT

BUT PERHAPS HE HAS THE BEST TIME OF ALL IN REALLY HOT WEATHER

AND VERY COLD WEATHER MAKES HIM FEEL COSY WHEN HE'S SNUGGLED IN HIS BLANKETS

THE NEBBS—All Aboard

WELL, LET'S GET GOING. IT WAS YOU WHO PLANNED THIS TRIP. LET'S GET UNDER WAY AND GET IT OVER WITH.

HOLY HOLLY HOCKS! ARE YOU DRESSING LIKE THAT FOR THE TRIP? IT SEEMS A SHAME WHEN YOU ARE SO GORGEOUSLY GARBED THAT PEOPLE CAN ONLY SEE HALF OF YOU WHEN YOU ARE SITTING IN THE CAR.

IS THAT ALL WE'RE TAKING? THERE'S CERTAINLY SOME MORE THINGS WE'VE GOT TO TAKE. ABOUT THAT PICTURE OF YOUR OLD MAN THAT YOUR MOTHER GAVE US FOR A WEDDING PRESENT?

THERE'S NOTHING IN THERE I'M NOT GOING TO USE. YOU WOULDN'T EXPECT ME TO PRESS MY THINGS IN A PILL BOX, WOULD YOU?

JUST A MINUTE, DADDY. I WANT TO TAKE MY BIKE, TOO.

BRING OUT YOUR PIANO, TOO. I'LL HOLD IT ON MY LAP SO YOU CAN DO YOUR PRACTICING ENROUTE.

HAS PRINCIPLES BUT NOT CANDIDATES

It has come to our notice that some publicans, and also some individuals, are making suggestions that The Register has certain candidates for public office. We believe we owe it to ourselves to say that there is no candidate for public office, who is running at the request or the solicitation of The Register, or its publisher.

The Register is interested in candidates only as they represent ideas and governmental principles which it believes are for the public good. And it is for those candidates in proportion as they espouse those views.

We believe the people of the county are to be congratulated on the fact generally, of the personal character and integrity of the men who are candidates for public office. Almost without exception they are men, honorable and upright. Some of them positively, in their own activities and declarations, embody positions which we are confident will be very helpful to the citizens of Orange county.

We know that we must elect men to public office who believe in and are determined to reduce very materially, governmental expense. We are glad that such men are candidates. The tax burden is resting heavier and heavier upon our people, not only in Orange county, but throughout the nation. We are confident that the voters are determined to steer away from men who are given to the practice of money-spending.

We believe the voters will be looking for candidates whom they know will recognize that they are servants of the people, and will know that the business of the public should be transacted in the open. We have had quite a spectacle served to us in recent days when even the trustees of the city, appealing to the county board, have seen them adjourn and go behind closed doors, where the public knew nothing of the discussion, and then come back and render a decision. All was unanimous. There are reasons for secrecy. But those reasons are not in harmony with saving the taxpayers' money or protecting his highest interest.

There is something inherent in human nature, planted there undoubtedly by the Creator Himself, that causes him to be willing to have those things which are admirable and which are done in the line of duty known to the public, and to want to conceal the other kind.

Prodigality in the use of taxpayers' money is not done in the open. The broad daylight is helpful to the common people. Secrecy and "huddles" are the methods of special interests. Political manipulators lose any peculiar or special power which they do not deserve, when the public work is done as it should be done, with the floodlights of public opinion on it.

Candidates, who, when elected, will carry out such principles are the ones whom the people, we believe, will nominate and elect.

STATE FOOD ADMINISTRATOR

Governor Rolph has created the office of State Food Administrator, and has placed in it the director of Agriculture, Dudley Moulton. The thought is that Moulton shall gather fruit and vegetables from sources where they may be donated, and use them for the needy this coming winter.

The amount of food products that the unemployed have gathered together from various sources for their own use has been very remarkable. It shows a liberality on the part of donors, and a resourcefulness on the part of the unemployed themselves. As we observe it, we believe the unemployed group working on their own behalf are to be congratulated. They are doing a large amount of work, doing it with an enthusiasm and intelligence that is highly commendable.

In Orange county, the various groups of unemployed meeting in a representative delegated body, are programming for the exchange of food products, one with the other, and it bids well to help out in balanced rations. There is considerable fruit being picked on shares, and the unemployed are working along this line, and in some cases they are storing these products in a manner to help them later in the season when fresh fruit is not available.

OOH LA LA!

They say amusingly extravagant things in political speeches in France, too. The other day Senator de Las Cases was talking against the women's suffrage bill now before the French Senate. He said that the French women needed above all an international reputation for being faithful housewives and, what was really astonishing, that the United States might have entered the war two years sooner had Parisian women had a better reputation in America.

Now there is the basis for a real newspaper interview. How did that Senator arrive at his conclusion? Does he figure that the American men were afraid of the French women or that the American papas and mamas were afraid of the French women?

The cat is out of the bag. Some people never could understand the idealism and restraint which caused President Wilson to keep the country from war as long as the United States did keep out of the European imbroglio. Here is an explanation they can understand. It was the Parisian women. Their reputation kept us out of the war! France will do anything to promote powerful alliances. Evidently the French men are determined to make over the reputation of the French women!

WHY NOT DO IT NOW?

News comes out of Washington that if conditions do not ameliorate by late September or October, Mr. Hoover will summon a special session of Congress to deal exclusively with legislation for business revival and unemployment relief.

There is no doubt but that if conditions continue as they are, which means that they will be getting worse, that Congress will have to be convened in special session, if nothing more is done than is now before Congress.

We do not believe the President himself is properly impressed with the magnitude of the problem before him, or he would not be so free with threats of veto upon any proposition of real relief that reaches to the ordinary citizen. The time to do these things is now, before Congress adjourns.

To be sure, President Hoover has agreed with a joint resolution turning over 45,000,000 bushels of Farm Board wheat and 500,000 bales of cotton to the Red Cross for emergency relief. We cannot quite understand why he favors the government doing this indirectly with money for the needy, and yet is against it directly for them.

THE REAL NEEDS OF THE COUNTRY

The home loan bank bill is before the United States Senate for consideration. The "boozologists" enthusiastically wanting to carry out the spirit of the Republican and Democratic platforms on liquor, are planning to start a repeal program. They care nothing about the home loan bank project apparently, and little about the bill designed to help the needy.

They are working for the brewers and the "wets." Well, this will bring it to a direct issue, and a lot more sensibly, than through the process of a national convention. When a Senator or Congressman votes for repeal, we know what it means. We also know what it means when he votes against it. But just now we would like to see both the "drys" and the "wets" devote themselves to the necessities of the country.

British Bankers Show Remarkable Courage

The Fresno Tribune

There is something traditional in the announcement that the Bank of England has forbidden its girl employees to use lipstick.

The "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street" must have her dignity upheld even to the point of censoring the wearing of apparel and facial adornment of women employees.

On top of the lipstick decree, the bank forbids girl employees to wear short-sleeved dresses; demands gowns of dark colored material and even wants the girls and women to "preserve a dignified air" and adopt an official face during business hours.

Needless to say, press dispatches confirm the conclusion that the girls don't like the new edict. They declare such regulations will stereotype them and turn them into frumps. Of course, nothing could be worse to contemplate from the girls' standpoint than a future in which she becomes a frump.

But the bank is not worried about its orders being disobeyed. In fact it goes the lipstick decree one better in its bulletin to employees which demands that every clerk is required to behave herself honorably in all the private and social relations of life and her general conduct must be that of a lady and a woman of principle.

American bankers may lay down rules for the guidance of their feminine employees and probably do. But what banker would have the fortitude to ban lipstick? It must be admitted that the British have the courage of their convictions.

Shock Tests for Shellfish

New York Times

A young man from the east side of New York once had a big idea. He was in the jewelry business, with electrical engineering as a hobby. He thought that it was a cruel waste to destroy thousands of oysters to produce one pearl. Why not have a look at the insides of the oyster first by means of the X-ray? If it contained no precious freight, it could be restored to its native bed unharmed.

He patented his apparatus and sailed on the next ship for Ceylon. It worked well except for one little point which he had overlooked. The X-ray either killed the oyster or utterly ruined its disposition. His invention was scientifically perfect, but commercially worthless.

Now the director of fish and game of the State of Massachusetts has taken a hand at applying the principle of electro-dynamics to shellfish. His department has adopted a device to test the condition of a lobster by sending electric shocks through its muscular and nervous systems. If the lobster jumps he is good to eat. But will he taste as good? If so, the new invention should be a boom to business. No restaurant window can afford to do without one.

Why Go to Europe to See Picturesque Ruins?

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

TIMELY WARNING

Oh! Little fellow of two or three years,
Sit up in your crib and be glad.
Life will not for you be a valley of tears
As it was for your hard toiling dad.
You'll never need work like a son-of-a-gun;
The progress of science foretells
That when you grow up all your work will be done
By photo-electrical cells.

You'll never sit nervously twiddling your thumbs
As I in my youth used to do;
For reading and writing and spelling and sums
Will always be easy for you.
And even abstruse mathematical stunts
Will never arouse a deep sigh,
For you will arrive at the answer at once
With a photo-electrical eye.

And when you're grown up, and ambitious for wealth,
As you toil at the shop and store,
No over-exertion need ruin your health
As was mine in the sad days of yore.
Your business will cause you no care or concern,
No worries will drive you insane;
Without any trouble a fortune you'll earn
With a photo-electrical brain.

But even at that you must pause now and then
As life you go traveling through,
To think of the devoted methods of men
Who are out for a fortune like you.
It may be more easy for kids to get by
A couple of dozen years hence,
But be sure there will not be an oversupply
Of photo-electrical sense!

PARAGRAPHS

The corner saloon can't come back. There are no corners. There's one consolation. Kill off all the gangsters, crooks and fanatics and you'd still have a mighty nation left. It will be time to worry about America's future when the discovery of a prominent citizen's sins no longer is news. Are you a typical American? Well, then, what is there to worry about if the others are as decent as you?

DOING EVERYTHING BY MACHINERY SOUNDS GOOD, BUT NO MACHINE EVER WILL SAY: "CHARGE THAT TO MY ACCOUNT."

Yet that dreadful kidnapping mess wasn't altogether useless. It got Gaston B. Means. People are kind at heart. They never make one of those awful bronze statues of a hero until he's dead. If they want public works to provide jobs and return a profit, what about planting a few billion trees?

AMERICANISM: Wailing because nobody will replant denuded forest areas; keeping millions idle because nobody can think up a job for them.

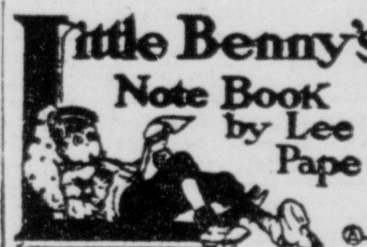

It might be easier to get the unemployed back on the soil if that word "back" didn't bring such painful memories. There is some optimism left. G. O. P. bosses in the South still struggle for control of patronage. The supply of cotton so far exceeds the demand that the planter's women can afford few rayon frocks and undies.

CAR REPAIRING MUST BE A PROFESSION. ONLY PROFESSIONAL MEN GET PAID FOR GOOD INTENTIONS.

But how do you know you could run the country better if you can't even manage your own family well? His love of country isn't worth much if he won't even clean up the wee bit of it in his back yard. Experts wonder how the word "yoo-men" originated. Probably old-time, second lieutenant enjoyed addressing his doughboys as "yoo men." General Pershing calls this a war. But digging up isn't quite as bad as digging in.

Me and Sid Hunt and Puds Slinkins and Shorty Judge was sitting on my front steps talking about different subjects such as vacation being here at last and if it would be possible to have too much vacation just like it's possible to have too much school, us fellows all saying we doubted it, and Shorty Judge said, "We're going away this summer, we haven't decided whether we're going to the country or the mountains, we're still talking about it."

We're going to stay right here on account of the depression, and maybe go on some picknicks and things, I said, and Sid Hunt said, "So are we, G. wizz imagine anybody going away with all this depression going on, good nite that's a good one."

My father says he wouldn't even think of going away in all this depression, Puds Slinkins said. My father says people are to consider themselves lucky to be able to stay home with a roof over their heads without wanting to go away some place they don't belong just because it's summer, he said.

Wich just then Sam Cross came up saying, "Why, whose going away?" Shorty Judge, I said, and Sam said, "G. wizz what's you know about that in all this depression. Anybody that goes away now will probably be the only ones away. They'll be all alone among a bunch of old scenery without even anybody to talk to except themselves. We're going to stay right here with everybody else, that's what we're going to do, he said."

Us too, good nite, that's what we're going to do, Shorty can go away, if he wants to, that's his business, us fellows said, and Shorty said, "Well, I didn't say we was going for sure, what's a matter with you, I said we was just talking about it, good nite I guess you guys think you're the only ones know there's a depression around here, I wouldn't be surprised if we stayed right home with the depression."

And he kept on sitting there looking gitty instead of proud like he started looking. Proving you can't be too original and feel popular at the same time.

In the Long Ago

14 Years Ago Today.
From The Register Files

JULY 6, 1918

Announcement was made that Orange county's five big sugar mills would be a month later than usual in starting on the season's grind of beets. It was thought that operations would not begin before the middle of August, whereas previous seasons had seen the plants in action by mid-July or earlier.

The spring clip of wool was bringing the highest price in many years. J. T. Grace of Santa Ana received 55 cents a pound for his clip. Prices made the sheep business one of the most profitable of the state's industries.

The new studio home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Payne was completed at Laguna Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Payne announced that they were planning to take up their residence there at once.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

TO ALL 1932 COLLEGE GRADUATES

I want, if I can, to say with conviction why I think the young men and the young women who have just been graduated from the colleges and universities of the United States should not be unduly discouraged by the difficult economic readjustment and political reconsideration in the midst of which they find themselves.

In the first 20 years of their adult careers, many of the political, social, and economic formulas that have until now dominated our civilization must be revised and brought into more intelligent relation to the changed circumstances of this age of science and the machine.

In so far as the college and university graduates of 1932 share intelligently in the guidance of this imperative revision, the future will drop its fruits into their laps.

New kinds of statesman!
New kinds of business men!
New kinds of educators!
New kinds of journalists!
New kinds of leaders everywhere will be born out of this chilled and arrested phase of profound concern through which we are passing.

If the young men and young women who have been this year graduated from the colleges and universities of the United States have developed those qualities of mind and character, demanded by the changed circumstances of this changed time, they can afford to throw the normal anxieties of the youth to the winds and face the future with high hearts.

The future will be closed to the routinist!
The future will be closed to the retailer of state formulas!

The future will be closed to the blind and blustering partisan!
The future will be closed to the irresponsible reactionary!

The future will be closed to the irresponsible radical!
That is, the future will be closed to these if better sorts of men and women are waiting to take the reins.

The future of politics! The future of business! The future of these and all other fields is to be had for the asking by men and women who bring to their processes mind and characters at once free and disciplined.
Tomorrow I shall suggest the mind I think the times require.

NIGHT TERRORS

A little child of three who had been sleeping soundly all night long wakened one night and screamed in terror. His mother ran to his crib and, almost as frightened as he, begged him to tell her what was the matter.

"Eyes," he said, "and claws and things in the dark. I'm afraid." Clinging to his mother he sobbed and shuddered until she said, "Come along to mother's bed. Nothing can hurt you there."

Snuggled in beside his mother he was soon asleep. All day he played happily enough and went to bed as usual. About two o'clock, as the night before, he sat up in his crib and screamed for help. His mother went to comfort him and again he refused to be comforted until he was safe in his mother's bed. Now he does this regularly and the family's rest is broken night after night.

He doesn't mind because he sleeps late in the morning anyway, and his terror lasts only long enough for him to get into his mother's bed. He is asleep almost immediately while his disturbed elders toss and twist for hours.

I do not know why children have night terrors. Something has frightened them perhaps. Maybe some old race-memory stirred. A shadow danced on the wall and lay darkly on his bed, an unusual sound awakened him and the darkness frightened him, an experience during the day—perhaps a story of creepy and fearsome details—one never knows. The difficulty lies in allaying the fear once it has been brought forward.

Turn on the light the first thing. Speak quietly and reassuringly to the child. Let him go to the bathroom, wash his hands, have a drink, put out the light and go to sleep. That is, what you do if he will let you. If he won't, you have to do the best you can to quiet him. Don't argue with him telling him there is nothing to fear. Keep away.

Shorty Judge, I said, and Sam said, "G. wizz what's you know about that in all this depression. Anybody that goes away now will probably be the only ones away. They'll be all alone among a bunch of old scenery without even anybody to talk to except themselves. We're going to stay right here with everybody else, that's what we're going to do, he said."

Us too, good nite, that's what we're going to do, Shorty can go away, if he wants to, that's his business, us fellows said, and Shorty said, "Well, I didn't say we was going for sure, what's a matter with you, I said we was just talking about it, good nite I guess you guys think you're the only ones know there's a depression around here, I wouldn't be surprised if we stayed right home with the depression."

BALKAN CAMPAIGN

On July 6, 1918, Italian and French troops in Albania started the Balkan campaign, beginning a drive between the coast and the Tomorica valley.

Italian troops were jubilant and ready for further action along this front when they learned that fellow soldiers had finally completely expelled Austrians from the western bank of the Piave river.

Australians and Americans, doubling up on a front northeast of Villers-Bretonneux, advanced along a range of about a mile. Americans also successfully repulsed a raid at Xivray.

Russia's internal strife continued. General Count von Mirbach, German ambassador to Russia, was assassinated by two Social Revolutionists.
